BRYAN THROWS DOWN GAUNTLET

Peerless One Takes Democrats to Task.

NEBRASKAN SIGHTS A FIGHT IN PARTY

Bryan Freely Discusses Wool Subject.

Declares Caucus This Afternoon Will Determine Whether Democrats Are in Position To Fight Republican Party—Says It Is Too Early To Predict Anything About 1912 Candidates for Presidency.

St. Paul, June 1.—William Jennings Bryan today threw down the gauntlet to the Democratic leaders in congress

Speaker Champ Clark, Chairman Underwood and the other congressional leaders must either fall in line for free wool or there will be a fight within the party, declared Bryan

Pacing the floor of his room in the St Paul hotel, today, the "peerless leader" dictated a short, crisp interview

"I have not counted Mr. Underwood among the pronounced tariff reformers," he said, "but had hoped we had a majority on the committee sufficient to override his individual views, and I still hope we have enough in congress.

"The caucus this afternoon will determine whether we are in a position to fight the Republican party, or must first have a fight within our own party to determine what the party's position is."

Asked about issues and candidates in 1912, Bryan said the present session of congress would decide the issue and the issue would decide the candidate.

"How about Champ Clark?" asked a reporter.

"That will develop at the Democratic caucus in Washington today."

And Woodrow Wilson?"

"I didn't see Governor Wilson when he was in Lincoln," he answered. "I happened to be in New Jersey at that time. But I will say this, Governor Wilson is doing a good work in New Jersey."

"Well, then, Mr. Bryan, how about yourself?"

"I have said before that I am not a candidate As for the others, it is too early to discuss them."

Treasury Loses Little.

Washington, June 1.—Though the proposed Democratic revision of the wool tariff schedule will cut the duty on wearing apparel in half and reduce the raw wool rate by half, bringing it down to twenty-eight per cent Representative Underwood, Democrat, of Alabama, declared, today, that the treasury will lose but little more than $1,000,000 a year in revenue, because of increased importations.

The wool revision bill, as presented to the caucus, provides for a duty of twenty per cent ad valorem on sheep wool and the hair of the camel, goat, alpaca or other animals, as against a duty equivalent to 44 31 per cent ad valorem in the Payne Aldrich law.

Twenty per cent is also imposed on noils, top and other wastes, shoddies, mongo, flocks, wool extract, carbonized wool, carbonized noils as against 38.96 per cent. ad valorem in the present law

Twenty-five per cent. ad valorem is imposed on combed wool, tops, or roped and on other wool and hair advanced beyond the scoured condition, as against 105 19 per cent. now in force

On yarns, the bill provides for thirty per cent ad valorem as against 82 35 per cent in the present law.

SLAYER MUST ANSWER FOR ANOTHER DEATH

Innocent Bystander, Hit by Stray Bullet, Is Dead.

Denver, Col, June 1.—Frank M Henwood, the slayer of Von Puhl, must answer for another death. George F Copeland, prominent mine operator of Victor, an innocent bystander who was hit by one of Henwood's bullets, died at the St. Luke's hospital early today His left leg was amputated last night and the shock killed him.

A coroner's inquest will be held to determine legally the cause of Copeland's death and another charge of murder may be filed against Henwood Copeland was standing at the bar in the Brown Palace hotel when henwood shot.

Is Rearrested.

New York, June 1 —Following his discharge from custody under a writ of habeas corpus, which alleged there was no evidence that he had killed his wife, whose decomposed body was found in a bathtub, Harry A Scheib was immediately rearrested on a charge of grand larceny.

POMERENE WANTS MEN PROSECUTED

Ohio Senator Introduces His Resolution Today.

Washington, June 1.—A demand for criminal prosecution of the officers of the Standard Oil and the American Tobacco company is made in a concurrent resolution introduced by Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, of Ohio, in the senate today. It says:

"That it is the sense of the senate and of the house of representatives that criminal prosecutions should be begun against any or all of the said parties or persons who shall have, in the opinion of the attorney general, violated the criminal provisions of said statutes

"That the attorney general of the United States be and is hereby instructed to institute criminal prosecution against said parties or persons for violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, if any, where the evidence in the opinion of the attorney general shall justify such proceedings"

MADERO TO GIVE BALL TO CITIZENS

He Will Then Bid Farewell to City of Juarez.

El Paso, Tex., June 1.—With a ball tendered tonight by Madero and his wife to the citizens of Juarez, the insurrecto leader will bid farewell to the city whose capture several weeks ago resulted in the overthrow of Porfirio Diaz.

Madero spent most of today in preparing for his trip to the Mexican capital which will begin tomorrow morning

PROSECUTOR WILL APPEAL TO PUBLIC

Has Scheme To Get Funds To Continue Probe.

Columbus, O., June 1.—An appeal to the public for funds to carry on the graft investigation of the Ohio legislature, will be made by Prosecutor Edward Turner, he says, if the legislature fails to appropriate the $7,500 asked for by Attorney General Hogan.

BOMB EXPLODES IN STEEL PROBE

Chairman Stanley Is Given a Surprise.

IS ASTONISHED AT GARY'S REVELATIONS

Government Knows All, Declares Steel Men.

It Comes Out in Investigation by Committee That Uncle Sam Has Been Going Over Books of Steel Trust for Six Years, but the Fact Is Kept a Secret—Stanley Gets Much Excited Over This.

Washington, June 1 —That either President Taft or the department of commerce and labor has suppressed an exhaustive report on the United States Steel corporation, the result of six years' investigation by the bureau of corporations, was strongly intimated before the Stanley steel investigating committee today

"The bureau of corporations has for six years been examining our books and records. They have made a most exhaustive review of all of our business and our methods," Judge E. H. Gary said "They must have a mass of documents that would almost fill this room regarding our organization"

"What!" demanded Chairman Stanley, plainly astounded. "Do you mean to say that the bureau has been looking at your business from the inside for four or five years?"

Stanley's Demand.

"Certainly," returned Gary. "I don't know how many hundreds of thousands of dollars it has cost us to aid the bureau in investigating."

Stanley then demanded impressively:

"Have you any information as to whether the data gathered by the bureau has been furnished to the present president of the United States?"

"I have no knowledge as to whether the department has furnished this matter to the president," he said. "I have information that the report will be submitted to the president, I hope within the next few months. I do not know whether partial reports have been furnished him or not"

Just before the hearing adjourned for the day, Stanley sprung another bomb by demanding that Gary outline any plans the steel magnates may have for an international, worldwide organization to control the steel industry throughout the world

GIRL SHOCKED BY LIGHTNING

She Is Very Badly Burned at St. Clairsville.

CONWELL PRAISES STATE SANITARIUM

Declares People Reap Great Benefits.

Cincinnati Woman Slashes Rival's Nose—Prominent Bluffton Man Is Victim of Assault at Lima—Canton Youth Is Accidentally Shot. Marietta Girl Ends Her Life After Quarrel with a Cousin.

St. Clairsville, O., June 1. — Adda Morgan is nursing a badly burned ear and trying to make half the former amount of fluffy hair cover her head. Miss Morgan was using the telephone when lightning struck the wire and she was knocked across the room. One shoe was ripped off her foot and her dress was slit at the side The girl's left ear was badly burned and the hair on the left side of her head was completely burned off.

Praises State Sanitarium.

Mt. Vernon, O., June 1.—"My annual report, soon to be issued, will show that fully 80 per cent of those who have been at the sanitarium received great benefit while here, and, following out what they learned here, as to wholesome food and fresh air, are doing nicely at their homes since they were discharged," said Superintendent C. B Conwell of the Ohio state tuberculosis sanitarium

Ada Trouble Settled.

Ada, O., June 1.—Isador Roth and Chester Rowe, two of the students suspended for engaging in a college row, were reinstated. Roth, whose home is in Erie, Pa., would have lost $60,000 left him by his father had he failed to graduate with his class. President Smith stated he wished to be fair with the boys and at the same time he hoped to maintain the high standard of the school.

Slashes Rival's Nose.

Cincinnati, O., June 1. — Mamie Grievous is minus her nose. She also bears many wounds on her arms and breast, the work of a rival dusky maiden who gives the name of Turner. The wounded woman was rushed to the city hospital, where her nose wa sreplaced and her wounds closed by many stitches.

Arrested For Shortage.

Herbst, O., June 1.—Frank Garr of this city is under arrest charged with appropriating $500 to his own use. As postmaster of this place the man is accused of using money which did not belong to him. He made good the shortage, but that didn't save him from arrest by the authorities who investigated the case.

Stabbed in Back.

Lima, O., June 1.—The local authorities are unable to find a clew to the identity of the man who struck down G. S Beechy, 55, one of the most prominent residents of Bluffton, this county. Beechy's condition is serious, as the assassin thrust a long knife into his back, leaving his victim lying in a pool of blood.

Shoots Himself by Mistake.

Canton, O., June 1.—Robert Horner, 20, was showing Miss May Leggett, 16, his niece, how to handle a revolver safely, when the weapon was discharged and he was mortally wounded through the stomach.

Throat Cut in Scrap.

Sandusky, O., June 1—There was a free-for-all fight in a lake front saloon, in which Jake Feasel, a sailor, had his throat cut from ear to ear by a man said to be W. J. Stevens, a Kenton saloon keeper.

Ends Life After Quarrel.

Marietta, O., June 1.—Miss Lillie Hall, 16, lies dead at her home here as a result of a bullet wound through her heart. The girl shot herself after telling her mother she had a quarrel with a cousin.

CLAD IN PAJAMAS, SQUIRE DOES HONORS

Is Aroused in Early Morn To Perform Marriages.

Dayton, O., June 1.—Squire Converse was aroused from bed early yesterday morning by a quartet determined to be married at an unseemly hour.

The couples were Willis Hartman, thirty-four years old, and Lida Masters, thirty-one, and Silas Masters, twenty-six and Isabel Falknier, twenty-eight.

The principals, two of whom are brother and sister, came from Clermont county, and at present are living in Dayton.

After a Memorial day celebration they decided to go to the home of Squire Converse, on the Smithville pike, and, attired in his pajamas, he wedded his callers.

Both high and low neckwear is being shown in the new styles.

RAILROAD MAGNATE HILL IS TO RETIRE

Assigns Reason for $600,000,000 Bond Issue.

St. Paul, Minn., June 1.—Official announcement was made from the general offices of the Great Northern railway of the issue of $600,000,000 in bonds, covering one of the biggest financial deals that has ever been made in the west. The biggest proportion of the issue will take care of old bonds which have been issued by the company from year to year to cover extensions and improvement, but the other big slice makes provision for the taking over of the Burlington railroad.

The issue of bonds means the taking up of $330,000,000 of gold bonds of the Great Northern, including $22,400,000 in the bonds of the Burlington, for which the Great Northern is responsible. It is believed that by the issue the Great Northern is to take over the Burlington, divorcing the Northern Pacific from that road. It is thought this merger will be upheld in the courts, on the strength of the "reasonable trust" clause of the supreme court decision in the Standard Oil case.

"I am getting old and will quit the railroading business after a while I want to leave the road in good financial shape so it can make all the improvements needed," is the way James J. Hill, chairman of the directors of the Great Northern, summed up his reasons for making the mortgage of $600,000,000 on the road.

DEMOCRATS TACKLE A VEXING QUESTION

Revision of Wool Schedule Is Taken Up Today.

Washington, June 1.—The Democrats of the house met at noon, today, to struggle with the vexing problem of revising the wool schedule of the tariff.

When the caucus opened Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee, which presented to the caucus the fifty per cent. reduction wool tariff bill, predicted that the caucus would adopt it by a two-thirds vote, thus binding every Democrat to support the measure.

"Mr. Bryan's opposition to our wool program, and his demand for free wool, have had the effect of increasing our supporters," he declared.

Underwood and his allies went into today's battle confident that when the smoke cleared away, Bryan's power in the party would have suffered a severe setback.

The Bryan cohorts, led by Representative Francis Burton Harrison, of New York, were confident of success in their fight against "violation of platform pledges They believed they could prevent a two-thirds' vote in favor of Underwood's measure so that every Democrat would be free to take any position he liked.

HE PROMISES TO PROSECUTE

Wickersham Will Try To Jail Trust Magnates.

Washington, June 1 —The prophecy that the recent opinions by the supreme court in the Standard Oil and tobacco cases would result in sweeping attempts to secure criminal conviction of violators of the Sherman anti-trust law was made by Attorney General Wickersham to the house committee on expenditures in the department of justice. The statement was evoked by a question of Chairman Beall, demanding to know why there had been no such criminal prosecutions thus far.

That he received about $26,000 as his share of a fee from the sugar trust for services rendered by Henry W. Taft, brother of the president, when he was a member of the law firm of Strong & Cadwalader, was admitted by Attorney General Wickersham on the witness stand before the committee.

Wickersham also said that while a member of that law firm he "advised the United States Steel corporation" on several occasions from 1905 to 1909.

MANY KILLED WHEN MAGAZINE EXPLODES

Score of Soldiers Among Dead Near Nicaraguan Palace.

Managua, Nicaragua, June 1.—Nearly a score of soldiers were killed and the presidential palace and other buildings were damaged when Las Lomas, the fortifications overlooking the capital, were blown up. There is the wildest excitement. Rumors everywhere are of a liberalist plot, aimed probably at the presidential palace.

JOHNSON'S FIGHT BECOMES A REALITY

Cleveland Is Given Flat Three-Cent Car Fare Today.

Cleveland, June 1.—The fight of the late Tom L. Johnson for a three-cent street car fare became a reality today, when the entire street car service of the city was placed on a flat three-cent fare basis. Heretofore, one cent has been charged for transfers, but hereafter the one cent will be refunded by the conductor who takes the transfer up.

BIDS FAREWELL TO OLD MEXICO

Deep Pathos Marks Scene of Diaz's Departure.

THE AGED EX-RULER LEAVES A WARNING

Declares His Methods Must Be Pursued.

When Ex-President Bids Good-By to Friends at Vera Cruz, the Moment Is Too Solemn for Any Demonstration—Even the Little Group of Peons Turn Their Heads and Weep.

Vera Cruz, June 1.—After having ruled Mexico with an iron hand for three decades, General Porfirio Diaz last night bade farewell to his country, uttering at the same time an ominous warning.

Deep pathos marked the scene when with his wife and family the venerable ex-president boarded the steamer, Ypiranga, bound for Spain.

Speaking to the little group of soldiers who had served as a guard on his trip from the capital, the old man declared that the present government must yet resort to his methods if peace is to be re-established.

Wearing the same uniforms they had when they served as the general's guard the ex-soldiers drew up in front of the home of J. B. Body, where the ex-president has been quartered, under command of General Victoriano Huerta, an old and warm personal friend of Diaz

It was not a display such as would be arranged for an inspection. Some of the men wore sandals, some shoes, and none would have gained praise for neatness All were men who had done fighting.

They were the same who had defended the life of the ex-president and his family when rebels attacked the special train coming to Vera Cruz.

The men stood facing the veranda of the barn-like wooden house, which is located down in the terminal yards.

Guards Line Up.

Noisy engines puffed about, and the ships tied up at the wharves served as a reminder of why the ex-president was here. On the veranda a small detachment of the presidential guards war lined up.

Friends in this city and one or two from the capital came out of the house with him. His son, Colonel Porfirio Diaz, Jr., was not present. Like the women members of the the party, including Senora Diaz, he chose to remain in his room.

When General Diaz stepped forward on the veranda there was a buzz of interest but no applause. The moment was too solemn for such an expression, and even the little group or peons beside the soldiers repressed their feelings until the speechmaking and embracings were concluded Their applause then was brief.

General Diaz, showing almost no sign of his recent illness, was dressed in an ordinary sack suit of black. He carried in his hand a Panama hat The only touch of color about his attire was a lavender four-in-hand necktie, in the name of the army, General Huerta addressed him, telling his old chief that he could always count on these men, "notwithstanding what has been said," General Huerta added with perhaps more frankness than tact, "it is the only portion of the country that did not go against you."

An Emotional Scene.

Huerta declared that he and his men and the army in general were sorry to see General Diaz leave Mexico, but there was also reason for gratification, inasmuch as foreigners would be given an opportunity to know the man who had made his country famous.

"I am grateful to the army," said the ex-president, "that I could count on it to the last moment of leaving Mexican territory. It is the only real defense the country has, and to re-establish peace in this republic its services will have to be called upon in this crisis."

Tears were in the old man's eyes now, and his voice was broken. Pointing to the colors of Mexico the general added:

"I would then place myself at the head of the country's loyal forces, and under the shadow of that flag I would know how to conquer as in times past."

General Huerta grasped his hand, and then the two old fighters embraced. One by one the minor officers moved forward and each was embraced by General Diaz, and told good-by.

It was over. The troops had stood at attention for an hour in the broiling heat, but none appeared weary.

Entire Family Departs.

Those who went aboard the steamer with the ex-president included Senora Carmen Diaz, his wife; Senora Tereza, the widowed sister of Senora Diaz, and her son Jose; Colonel Porfirio Diaz, Jr., his wife and their five children; Lieutenant and Mrs. Lorenzo Elizaga and their young son; General Manuel Gonzalez and Fernando Gonzalez. Lieutenant Elizaga is a brother-in-law of General Diaz.

On one of the boats in the harbor was an old Mexican. He did not go to see the aged soldier, but had he done so there is little doubt of the reception he would have had, for this old boatman is the man who saved the life of Diaz in the same harbor a generation ago.

Diaz was attempting to re-enter his country as a fugitive. He was fomenting a revolution. Hunted by the soldiers of Mexico he found it necessary to guard his movements So when he entered the harbor of Vera Cruz he slipped quietly overside and attempted to swim ashore. Tossed by the swell, he lost his bearings and was swimming out to sea when discovered by a man in a rowboat. He was pulled in and rowed ashore.

If his rescuer knew the identity of his passenger at that time he kept it a secret, and Diaz reentered his country, fought and won. Later the president called the boatman to the capital and gave him a better position. He showed a most kindly disposition toward his rescuer, but the boatman longed for the harbor and returned.

BRYAN WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE

Says He Can Be of More Service in the Ranks.

St. Paul, June 1.—"I am not a candidate for president," said William J. Bryan, after his arrival in St. Paul, today, to attend the banquet of Northwestern Democrats tonight.

"I can be of greater service in the ranks at present; besides, there is plenty of good material."

Many Reported Killed.

Washington, June 1.—One hundred and fifty persons were killed yesterday in an explosion of the government arsenal at Managua, Nicaragua, according to despatches received at the state department today.

TEN LOSE LIVES IN LAKE STORM

Erie's Waters Lashed to Fury by Fierce Gale.

PROPERTY LOSS IS ENORMOUS

Cleveland and Lorain Suffer Damage.

In Addition to Fishermen Who Are Drowned When Frail Craft Capsizes, Many Persons Are Reported Missing — Trees Uprooted, Many Windows Shattered and Shipping Damaged.

Cleveland, O. June 1.—For five minutes the wind tore through northern Ohio, leaving death and destruction in its wake. Ten are dead, many missing and scores injured, while the property loss will easily reach $1,000,000. Shipping in the Cleveland harbor was scattered, buildings shaken and giant trees twisted from their roots.

Seven were drowned in Lake Erie off the Cleveland shore, as the storm caught fishermen unawares and imperiled the lives of yachtsmen and other people on the water. Three were drowned at Lorain while more are missing both there and at Cleveland.

No Block Escaped.

Not one block of the city missed its mark of the wrecking gale. Showers of glass from broken windows splintered on the sidewalks, and the boughs of trees were snapped. Long sections of Euclid avenue were swept. This street, more than any other, gave Cleveland the name of Forest City, and was piled high with fallen tree trunks. Trees were uprooted in parks and avenues

Most of those who were drowned were fishing from small boats on the lake when the storm broke. They were unable to get to the shore in time and their boats were swamped by the huge waves. Lifesavers and boathouse men made several daring rescues.

Aviator's Hard Flight.

Rome, June 1.—With both himself and machine battered and scarred, Roland Garros reached Rome at 5:30 this afternoon, after a hard flight from Pisa. He is the second aviator to complete the second leg of the Paris-Turin flight.

Dr. A. Rhu has returned from Cleveland where he was called on business.

WORK DONE BY THE ASSEMBLY

Fourteen Progressive Measures Passed,

AND SAME NUMBER CHOKED TO DEATH

Some Very Important Bills Are Throttled.

One-Per-Cent. Tax Bill, Workmen's Compensation Act and Corrupt Practices Act Among Those Enacted—Bank Guarantee Bill, Ballot and Jury Reform Measures Are Among Those Killed.

Columbus, O., June 1.—Fourteen so-called progressive measures were enacted into laws and fourteen were killed by the seventy-ninth general assembly which has just adjourned after one of the most stormy sessions in years. Following is a list of the bills enacted and defeated:

Non-Partisan Judiciary—A bill providing that the names of nominees for all judicial offices shall appear on the ballots without party designation of any kind. The names shall be rotated on the ballots, so each candidate will have an equal show with his opponents in regard to position on the ballots.

Direct Election of United States Senators—A bill embodying the Oregon plan, which provides for the direct nomination and election of senators. Members of the legislature are required to sign one of two statements—the first, pledging him to vote for that man for senator who receives the most votes at the regular election, or the second statement, refusing to be so bound. Under this plan a Democratic legislator might vote for a Republican for senator or a Republican legislator for a Democrat.

Non-Partisan Constitutional Convention—A bill requiring all delegates to the constitutional convention of 1912 to be nominated and elected on a strictly non-partisan basis. Nominations are to be made by nominating petitions only

Big Saving Promised.

One Per Cent. Tax Rate Limit—A bill limiting the tax rate to one per cent or one dollar tax for every $100 of property. This may be increased to one and one-half per cent. by a vote of the people. Other taxation reform measures provide the necessary machinery for placing all property on the tax duplicate at 100 cents on the dollar.

Central Board of Control—A bill abolishing the boards of trustees of seventeen state institutions and placing the management of all the institutions in the hands of one central board, consisting of two Democrats and two Republicans. Expected to result in big saving in running expenses and more efficient management.

Shorter Work Day for Employed Women—A bill limiting the working hours of women employed to fifty-four hours a week, with not more than ten hours in any one day.

Workingmen's Compensation Act—A bill creating a state compensation fund from which money will be paid employes injured and dependents of employes killed at their work. Employers are to contribute ninety per cent. to the state fund and the employes ten per cent. Those employers who refuse to pay into the fund are stripped of many of their legal defenses in case they are sued for damages for the injury or death of employes.

Back to the Farm.

Teaching of Agriculture in the Schools — A "back-to-the-farm" measure, providing that agriculture shall be taught in the common schools of the state, outside of cities

A Women's Reformatory—A bill to establish a women's reformatory, where younger women and girls will be separated from the hardened women criminals now in the women's prison.

Registration Reforms—A bill providing stringent penalties for illegal registration. Directed particularly against "floaters" and city "flophouses."

Income Tax Amendment—Ratification of the income tax amendment to the federal constitution.

Public Utilities Bill—Declared by progressives to be even stronger than the Wisconsin, New York and New Jersey acts. Permits telephone mergers, but state commission must value the properties and fix the rates that can be charged before the mergers are effected. Gives the commission control over stock and bond issues.

Corrupt Practices Act—Regulates the amount of money a candidate may spend and throws other safeguards around elections. The governor is expected to veto that section providing fine and imprisonment for editors who seek public

COURT ORDERS TRUST TO QUIT

Tobacco Case Decided by the Highest Tribunal.

THE BIG COMBINE MUST REORGANIZE

Lower Court Given Supervision Over Job.

Work Must Be Completed in Six Months—Officers May Be Prosecuted by Department of Justice. Justice Harlan Dissents from the Otherwise Unanimous Opinion. Wickersham Is Pleased.

Washington, May 30.—Dissolution of the American Tobacco company was ordered by the supreme court of the United States, this being its judgment in the second of the big anti-trust cases. The dissolution, however, unlike that of the Standard Oil company, is to be carried on under the direction of the lower court—the circuit court of appeals for the southern district of New York. The supreme bench places upon that court the burden of devising not only a plan of dissolving the combination, but of "recreating, out of the elements now composing it, a new condition which shall be honestly in harmony with and not repugnant of the law."

In order to enter such a decree it became necessary for the supreme court to reserve and remand the case to the federal court in New York.

The decision of the supreme court goes much farther than that of the lower tribunal. It includes within the condemnation of the decree the 29 individuals named in the government's bill of complaint, the two English corporations, the British-American Tobacco company and the Imperial Tobacco company, and also the United Cigar Stores company.

Chief Justice White, who read the opinion, held that the circuit court of appeals had erred in dismissing the government's bill of complaint against the individuals and the foreign corporations and also in not granting the government's prayer and including within the decree the United Cigar Stores company.

In brief, the supreme court completely sustained all of the vital points contended for in the original bill of complaint filed by the government.

Wickersham Issues Statement.

Attorney General Wickersham in a formal statement expressed great pleasure over the decision by the highest court.

"It is scarcely to be conceived," he said, "that any more comprehensive and effective application of the statute to this vast combination could possibly have been decreed."

One of the most important effects of the enlarged decree is that it makes possible a criminal action against the 29 individuals named in the government's original bill of complaint. These defendants now stand in exactly the same attitude as John D. Rockefeller and his associates, whose prosecution under the criminal statutes is now being urged in the senate in connection with the Standard Oil case.

The defendants include James B. Duke, C. C. Duke, Percival S. Hill, George Arents, Paul Brown, Oliver H. Payne, Thomas F. Ryan, William H. McAllister, Anthony N. Brady, Benjamin N. Duke, H. M. Hanna, Herbert D. Kingsbury, Pierre Lorillard, Rufus L. Patterson, Grant B. Schley and Williamson W. Fuller.

Must Be Good at Once.

The tobacco trust is to have six months in which to put its house in order and to reorganize in a way that will comply with the law. Meanwhile the trust is enjoined from taking any further steps to enlarge its powers or committing any further actions that are unlawful. The lower court is authorized in its discretion to add 60 days to the six months period. In the event of the failure of the defendants to comply with the law in that time, the court is directed to proceed by injunction, or, if necessary, by the appointment of a receiver to accomplish the reformation of the American Tobacco company and its subordinates and its associates into an organization that will square with the law.

The opinion of the court was unanimous except for a dissent by Associate Justice Harlan. The venerable justice again voiced his protest against the action by the majority of the court in construing the law "in the light of reason." He characterized the action of the court as "usurpation of the judiciary," and indulged in other emphatic statements that were little less than sensational.

ADAM BERRY LOSES LIFE AT MANSFIELD

Is a Brother of Mrs. W. H. Nickison of This City.

Mrs. W. H. Nickison, of Baker street, received a message, Monday evening, stating that her brother, Adam Berry, had been killed in an elevator at Mansfield, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickison and their sons, C. O. and James Nickison, left Tuesday noon for Mansfield.

The unfortunate man was about fifty-eight years of age and is survived by a widow and six children. He had frequently visited in Marion.

TWO YOUNG FELLOWS DO GREAT DEAL OF DAMAGE

They Shoot Rifles in East End of the City.

REWARD IS OFFERED FOR INFORMATION

The Fellows Shoot Through the Sub-Station of the Marion Gas Company—Three Young Men Are Arrested on Suspicion—They Tell Reasonable Stories—Police News.

Two young fellows shooting with rifles in the vicinity of the corner of Mt. Vernon and Merchant avenues, did considerable damage Monday evening. The fellows shot a number of insulators off telephone poles, shot through the Schrock blacksmith shop and through the sub-station of the Gas company. One of the fellows is described as wearing a black cap and being in his shirt sleeves, while the other wore a felt hat and black coat. They are about eighteen years of age and about five feet and eight inches tall. The police are making an effort to locate the culprits, while a reward of $50 is offered for information that will lead to their arrest.

Three fellows giving their names as Lee, Arthur and William Brown, and their home as Jamestown, New York, were arrested Monday evening on suspicion of being implicated in a petty theft at the Berry home, on south Prospect street. Shortly after 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, a man in his shirt sleeves walked into the Berry home. An elderly woman was in the house during the absence of Mrs. Berry, and she supposed that the man was an employe of the gas company and had come to read the meter. The fellow walked through the house and left a few minutes later, taking with him a small silver pocketbook containing a little over fifty cents. Lee Brown answered the description of the man who entered the house. He carried three door keys, one of which was a skeleton key. However, he could not be identified and as the Browns told reasonable stories, they were released.

WILL CARLETON AT THE EPWORTH M. E. CHURCH

Is Brought to the City by Members of Research Club.

A LARGE AUDIENCE ENJOYS HIS ADDRESS

The Poet Takes "Character Sketches" for His Subject and Illustrates His Address with Poems of His Own Composition — Some Thoughts Given by the Speaker.

Will Carleton, the poet, entertained a very large audience of men, women and children at the Epworth M. E. church, Monday afternoon, from 3:30 until after 5 o'clock. School was dismissed early so as to enable the school children and teachers to hear Mr. Carleton, who is considered one of the greatest living poets. He appeared here under the auspices of the Research club, which will devote the profits of the lecture to charitable purposes.

Almost every seat in the large edifice was filled when Henry A. Hartman, superintendent of the local public schools, arose to introduce the well-known writer, Mr. Carleton, while a man past the prime of life and one who has been before the public many years, both in this country and abroad, still retains his magnetism and power to entertain and please. He is not only an orator and lecturer, but a reader, and in his recitations of his own compositions he brought out those finer points which are often overlooked in the reading of a poem.

Mr. Carleton took for his subject, "Character Sketches." In speaking of characters, he said that every person differed from another. No two are alike. Many people may look so alike that it is hard to distinguish one from the other, but take the impress of their thumbs and it is found that there is a great difference. All people are born actors, they are actors by instinct. One does not have to go to the theater to find acting. There are dramas in the homes that would startle the world if they were made public. Mr. Carleton then recited "The Drama of the Wedding," one of his own poems.

In speaking of music, the speaker said, "When you want the sweetest lot of music in the world listen to the children. Nothing is so sweet to the ear of God than to hear the children of the Sunday-school singing His praises. One of the grandest beings in the universe is a true woman. Teach your girl to be a Frances Willard or a Harriet Beecher Stowe, or, if she can't be famous in this world, she can be famous in heaven, by doing good in the home here on earth."

Mr. Carleton spoke of the everyday school as one of the greatest dramas in the world; then of the dead and of how some funerals are a triumph. He said he had never seen Mark Twain's face more pleased than when he lay in the casket.

Throughout his discourse, Mr. Carleton illustrated his various characters with poems of his own composition, among them "Elder Lamb's Donation," "Uncle Nate's Funeral," and "The Mule," which was to illustrate that even animals are characters, and there are no two alike.

WILKIE IS PLACED IN CHARGE OF SPECIAL AGENTS OF THE TREASURY

JOHN E. WILKIE.

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Mr. John E. Wilkie, of Chicago, for thirteen years chief of the secret service of the United States, has been placed permanently in charge of the special agents of the treasury department. He will continue to serve as acting head of the secret service. Mr. Wilkie took charge of the special agents two months ago and has reorganized the service under the direction of Secretary MacVeagh. The special agents make up the treasury's "flying squadron" of investigators. In his new office Mr. Wilkie will direct the examinations for frauds in the customs service.

BRIDES MUST APPEAR WITH THEIR FIANCES

Applicants for Marriage Licenses at Probate Court.

NEW MARRIAGE LAW IN EFFECT TUESDAY

Too Many Would-Be Grooms Ask for Licenses with a View To Embarrassing Hoped-for Brides and Are Obliged To Return the Licenses. The Law.

On and after Tuesday the brides of Marion county will have to appear with their fiances in the probate court before a marriage license can be obtained, according to information received by Probate Judge W. S. Spencer.

Deputy Probate Judge John M. Brigel says it will be a terrible ordeal for some of the modest ones, but he declares it will be nothing compared to what others have had to stand in the past because of the weakness of the old marriage laws. He meant by that, frequently in past years, happy grooms, some young and some aged, have obtained licenses only to embarrass the would-be brides, who refused to be married, and the result was that the licensus were returned.

The new law was passed by the present legislature and it became effective last Tuesday.

A number of bashful brides, who will shrink at the prospect of appearing in probate court with their sweethearts, are expected to telephone the genial and accomodating probate judge and have him slip around to their home with the big marriage license book. But the probate judge says he will not permit this, and that the "spirit and the letter of the law" must be complied with by those who want to be spliced in Marion county in the future.

Had it been generally known that the new law went into effect Tuesday, the probabilities are that there would have been a rush for marriage licenses on the part of the fiances of bashful young women, Monday.

IRENE OSGOOD SHERARD AND THE HUSBAND IS SEEKING TO DIVORCE

"IRENE OSGOOD."
FROM THE EUROPEAN EDITION OF THE HERALD

MR. ROBERT SHERARD

London, May 26.—"Irene Osgood" Sherard, the American author, who is suing for a judicial seperation in the divorce court at Northampton, testified that her husband, Mr. Robert H. Sherard, author and journalist, had promised to make her life "a red hell," had seized her by the throat, twisted her arm, attempted to batter down her doors and threatened to "publish her infamy to the world." She denied that he wrote "To a Nun Confess'd" or "Servitude," but admitted that he was sent to Algiers and places where a woman could not go to get material for the latter. After testifying that she was in fear of her life and afraid to live with him because he often was grossly intoxicated and that he had seized the manuscript of one of her books and threatened to burn it, she said that on October, 1910, in consequence of his assaulting her, she rushed to London from their country home at Guildsborough Hall in a riding habit to instruct her solicitors to begin the present action. Several letters from Mr. Sherard asking for a reconciliation were read. One said: "All I want is a word of kindness from you. Even Calvay has a summit. I love you more than you will ever know."

THE RICHWOOD DRIVING CLUB HOLDS A MEETING

Some Good Racing at Village Fairgrounnd.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR A COMING MEETING

The Brotherhood of the Presbyterian Church Holds a Fine Meeting. Officers Are Elected for the Coming Year and Other Business is Transacted—Richwood Items.

Richwood, O., May 30.—[Special.]—The first meeting of the season was held Thursday afternoon by the Richwood Driving club at the fairground race course. The attendance was good and the races were remarkably interesting. Sandy Roman, owned by H. Schmelzer, won the A trot in straight heats in 1:12. The C trot was hotly contested and was won by Nightingale, E. E. Ledley, owner, in 1:19. The next meeting will be held June 8. The driving club will give a harness meet July 4, with four races, the purses to be $230 each. The money has all been guaranteed and is to be divided $120 to first, $60 to second, $30 to third and $20 to fourth.

The members of the Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church of Richwood met Wednesday evening in the church parlors and effected a permanent organization by electing the following corps of officers: President, C. E. Kagay; first vice president, Edward Jones; second vice president, J. A. Shipley; third vice president, Dr. S. J. Bown; fourth vice president, J. L. Wilkins; secretary and treasurer, T. J. McAllister. At the conclusion of the business session the members enjoyed a social season and lemonade and wafers were served. The brotherhood will meet the second Monday evening of each month.

Mrs. H. V. Spicer and daughters, Alice and Clara, of Delaware, were the guests of Mrs. C. J. Fifer and other friends in Richwood, during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Clements, of LaRue, and Mr. and Mrs. Arley Coons, of Byhalia, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Brooks, Thursday. They attended commencement in the evening as the guests of Ralph Emerson Horton, one of the graduates. Mr. Horton also had as guests his grandfather and aunt, Edward Horton and Mrs. Nellie Young, of Agosta.

J. F. Ledley was in Green Camp, Saturday afternoon, in attendance at the funeral of his grandson, John Harold Leaverton, the two-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Leaverton.

Mrs. J. A. Shipley and Mrs. D. B. Whitehead very delightfully entertained the Young Married People's Embroidery club, Friday afternoon, at the Shipley home on north Clinton street. After a season of embroidery, the work was laid aside and a fine lunch was served by the hostesses. Aside from the club members, several guests were entertained.

A jolly crowd of young people met at the home of Miss Opal Miller, Friday afternoon, and from there drove to the Scioto river, where they spent several delightful hours, enjoying a picnic lunch in the evening. The company included the following: Misses Lelah Kinney, Mary Kinney, Nellie Bumgarner, Opal Miller, Hazel Fulton, Messrs. Vernard Coe, William Ransome, Charles Handley and Harry Fleshers of Richwood, and Walter Perkins, of Columbus.

WOMAN IS CAPABLE OF BUSINESS EFFORT

MRS. J. C. BISHOP.

New York, May 30.—To prove her assertion that a woman in society may be capable of intelligent business effort, Mrs. James Cunningham Bishop has gone into trade. The sale of bottled spring water is the idea chosen to demonstrate her belief, and her friends say that her success has proved the truth of her contention. Mrs. Bishop will spend the profits in philanthropy.

Her venture is the result of a discussion at a recent dinner at her own home. When the talk turned to the question of "votes for women," the assertion was made that the average woman could not conduct a business successfully and could not be expected to vote intelligently.

GREEN CAMP SCHOOLS GRADUATE A CLASS

Five Students Receive Their Diplomas.

ORATIONS ARE GIVEN BY VARIOUS GRADUATES

The Exercises Are Held in the Green Camp Baptist Church and Are Attended by a Large Company of Friends and Relatives of the Class. Review of Program.

Green Camp, O, May 26—[Special]—The commencement exercises of the Green Camp schools were held in the Baptist church, Thursday evening and brought to a close a year of hard earnest work for the five graduates who acquitted themselves with credit It was one of the most successful commencements ever held by the school The rostrum was artistically enclosed with a rustic fence and a minature swinging gate, with a profusion of potted plants Back of the class was suspended their motto The Secret of Success is Constancy of Purpose" Each wore the class flower, the Marechal Niel rose

The program was opened by McNeal's five-piece orchestra, of Marion, which also played selections throughout the program The invocation was offered by Rev H H Hoyt

The First Speaker.

Miss Otto Zieg then stepped before the large audience and in a sweet manner held her hearers while she recited her oration on 'An Ohio Hero' She graphically described the life and death of William Crawford beginning with his acquaintance with Washington She told of the tie that bound them together and of the plan of converting the Indians to Christianity She told of the treachery of the Indians and of how Crawford was betrayed by Simon Girty, who had aspired to the hand of Crawford's daughter but was rejected After being betrayed Crawford was stripped, severely beated tied to the stake and when half burned scalped and left to suffer torture until nature was merciful and the spirit sped

Pleasing Oration.

Miss Ruth Porter greeted the audience and delivered her carefully prepared oration on The Age of Speed Her manner was cool, her voice clear and distinct and the audience gave close attention while she compared the progress man has made in all vocations of life

This has always been with more or less rapidity until it has reached the age where nothing but the greatest rapidity will satisfy, said the speaker 'It is said we make no new discoveries other than were known to the Greeks and Sages Only then they were satisfied in their own easy way Man's greatest progress has been made in the last fifty years, and during that time wonderful inventions and discoverie have been made Yet Edison says invention is only in its infancy She then told of the progress made in improvement of the locomotive, the establishment of the mail service, the telephone, telegraph, automobile and flying machine She closed by saying America is speed crazy

Games of Life.

Gladys Porter then came forward and delivered an oration entitled The Games of Life Her manner of delivery was very pleasing

"All the nations during all the ages have had their national games' said Miss Porter, 'some beneficial and some degrading Some ask 'what are games?' Games are contests, mental and physical, according to certain rules of amusement" She mentioned one game in particular, the animal baiting of the Greeks and Romans which consisted of casting human beings into the arena allowing the animals to devour them She alluded to the Olympian games as the best of ancient times The games of life were touched on and those of childhood which she said are forgotten in the great game of life She also described the chariot race of Lew Wallace's Ben Hur

Call of the Country

"The Calling of the United States of America was the subject of an excellent oration by Miss Mary Fish Her manner of delivery was very good She began by describing the voyage on the storm-tossed Atlantic, when the Pilgrim fathers came over She told of the hardships and privations endured

This desolate New England shore was the first home of American freedom From this kingdom a new patriotism was born, sweeping out beyond the confines of our own country, reaching out its arms of love and loyalty to every nation of the earth Many interesting features of the advancement of the United States were brought out

Only Boy in Class.

Earnest Long, the only boy in the class then came forward and in a loud, clear voice, gave an interesting oration on "The Mound Builders He reviewed their history in a brief way and spoke of the records left by this mysterious people, only surmised by the traces left of their work He said many students advance different theories It being beyond the power of man to prove the theories they will have to be left with other mysteries unsolved Mr Long closed this interesting bit of history with a piece of poetry entitled, Before Ohio Knew a Name'

The diplomas were presented by Superintendent E F Martin, after which Rev H H Hoyt pronounced the benediction

For some reason the trusts do not accept as wholly true Colonel Bryan's charge that President Taft has packed the federal supreme court in their interests.

In the language of the late Mark Twain, the report that former President Diaz had sailed for Spain proves to have been exaggerated.

One can't blame that Louisville policeman for raising a row when he found a drunken man locked up with a carload of mules. It was an outrage on the mules.

An English dealer is quoting mummies at $11,000 each, but it's [illegible] people thing of a hardship on [illegible] lan to ask him to deliver an opinion without permitting him to utter a dissenting opinion at a later date

"I note," observed the restaurant philosopher at luncheon today, "that an eminent German scientist holds that wireless messages which go astray are a menace to the human race, but it's my impression that they'll never cause half the trouble that arises from written messages found in hubby's pocket by wifey."

Last year's gold production of $466,000,000 broke all records. If there is anything in the theory, that the greater the gold production the less the purchasing power of a dollar, there are bound to be strenuous times ahead for the fellow who works on a salary.

If we get the view of Wall street, there isn't a man in the entire literary belt of the Hoosier state that has a look-in on John W. Gates when it comes to the creation of pure fiction.

Just about the time a man gets haughty over the supposed extent of his knowledge, he's liable to hear his wife telling a woman friend that cabochons are all the rage, and then he becomes humble again.

In describing a burglary, the Upper Sandusky Union-Republican says: "They visited the Horner home first, entering through an open window and leaving via a door. On a table in one of the rooms was a pumpkin pie and two lemons These were taken. A pair of new shoes in the room adjoining Mr. Horner's bedroom were next secured. His trousers were searched next, and $7.95 taken from the pockets." The Union-Republican has the order in which the goods were lifted down so patly that it may be up to the reporter to prove an alibi.

On the ground that her husband and home should receive her care and attention, a Pittsburg woman has resigned the presidency of a woman's club, which rather confirms the stories we have heard regarding Pittsburg husbands.

Who would have imagined, a few months ago, that in the near future we should see Ajax Pomerene in his mighty specialty of defying the lightnings of the trusts?

The only conclusion on the subject we have been able to reach is that the multi-millionaires gobble up all the fruits and vegetables one sees pictured in the seed catalogues.

BIRTHS.

A daughter was born, Wednesday night, to Mr. and Mrs. L. B Robbins, of Silver street.

HARRY PEIFER FINDS HIMSELF IN TROUBLE

Constable James F. Ullom Arrests the Youth.

MAKES CONFESSION OF PAST MISDEEDS

In Addition To Jumping Board Bill He Says He Forges Mother's Name to Check for $100 and Steals Pair of Bicycle Wheels—Awaits Action of Juvenile Court.

Sixteen-year-old Harry Peifer, arrested by Constable James F. Ullom near Kenton on a charge of jumping a board bill, confessed to forging his mother's name to a check for $100 and to stealing a pair of bicycle wheels in this city when arraigned in the court of Justice Charles H Conley, Thursday morning. The boy will be turned over to Judge W. S Spencer, of the juvenile court.

The youthful prisoner's father, [illegible] killed by a thunderbolt promised [illegible] telephone to come to Marion and help him all she could. She owns a little home.

The boy said he had forged his mother's name some time ago in order to start in the laundry business at LaRue. Soon after his escapade, he came to Marion and obtained a position at the Susquehanna Silk mills. He boarded at the home of Mrs. Bert Dye, of Park boulevard At the time he left here he owed Mrs. Dye $13 50 While at the Dye home he gave a little son of Mrs. Dye violin lessons. At the time of his disappearance he said he took the wheels off Milton Dye's bicycle and sold them to Thomas C O'Day for two dollars O'Day returned the wheels to Mrs. Dyke Thursday.

The youth was taken to the county jail by Constable Ullom to await the action of the juvenile court

YOUNG MEN IDENTIFIED AS EAST END GUNNERS

It Is Likely That Prosecutions Will Not Follow.

LITTLE AMUSEMENT TAKES SERIOUS TURN

Matter Will Probably Be Settled. Noah Neidhardt Is Given a Hearing and on a Plea of Guilty Is Fined Ten Dollars and Costs. Police Court Notes.

Raymond L. Young, aged twenty-three, of Haine avenue, was taken in charge by Chief Klinefelter, Thursday, charged with being one of the parties who shot the insulators off poles, shot through some lead cable and the sub-station of the gas company and the Schrock blacksmith shop, Monday evening. The fixing of the offense on Young was the result of a little good work on the part of Chief Klinefelter, Officer Thompson and Schrock who conducts the blacksmith shop while a crowd of his friends gathered to give him a surprise. The chief then hunted up the place where a party was held Monday evening in the East End, finding that this was at the Young home. When the chief interviewed Young, he admitted that it was himself that was out shooting and that Claude Neely was his companion. Both are crack rifle shots, and said they were out shooting birds. He stated that the holes put through the cable were the result of an accident, while the other shooting was done without considering what damage would result.

The chief visited the home of Neely, on east Center street, but was informed by the boy's mother that he was in Cleveland, and was expected to return Thursday. Schrock, who offered the reward of $50 for the information leading to the arrest of the boys, furnished much of the information to Chief Klinefelter that led to their identification. The telephone company is not desirous of prosecuting the boys, providing they settle for the damage they did, while the gas company takes the same stand. It is the opinion of Chief Klinefelter that Mr. Schrock will not prosecute them, knowing them as he does. As a result, Young has not been placed under arrest and steps will be taken to settle the matter.

Noah Neidhart, against whom an affidavit was filed by Harry Lutz, charging him with causing a disturbance and using obscene language while on board a car of the C., M. & B., was given a hearing before the mayor Wednesday afternoon. Neidhardt entered a plea of guilty to the charge against him and was fined $10 and the costs in the case. He paid the amount and was released.

Joe Hoctor, who was given a hearing in the mayor's court, Wednesday afternoon, on a charge of intoxication, filed against him by Harry Lutz, a conductor on a car of the C., M. & B., entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. His hearing was set for Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, his attorney standing good for his appearance at that time.

THE FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION IS OFF

Impossible To Give the Aviation Exhibition.

The contemplated big Fourth of July celebration in Marion has been declared off. The Retail Merchants' association, which was back of the movement, had to abandon the plan on account of the impossibility of giving the aviation exhibit, which was to be the chief attraction. Contracts for the aviation exhibit were all but closed when the expert came to Marion to inspect the field of starting and finishing. It had been intended to use the fairgrounds as the only available spot. When the expert had a look over the grounds he declared at once the impossibility of using them.

Aeroplanes require a ground-way of one thousand feet for a start, and the course must be clear in every direction, for the aviator, like the bird, must rise against the wind. The fairgrounds offer a north and south course, but it is dangerously narrow, and no aviator would risk his life or his machine in attempting a rise on so narrow a course. This insurmountable difficulty led the committee in charge to abandon the celebration, inasmuch as the flying exhibition was to be the chief and novel attraction. The merchants' association has not abandoned, however, all hope of an aviation exhibit. Suitable grounds will be acquired and such an attraction will be brought to Marion for fall opening week. Such, at least, is the contemplated plan.

JOINED IN MARRIAGE AT EPWORTH CHURCH

Miss Emogene Morris and Mr. Charles H. Lotte.

COMPANY OF FRIENDS WITNESSES CEREMONY

Dr. David H. Bailey Reads the Marriage Service—Mr. and Mrs. Lotte Have a Wide Circle of Friends Throughout the City—Will Reside on South Prospect Street.

The marriage of Miss Emogene Morris, daughter of Mrs A B Morris, of the Colonial flats, and Mr. Charles H. Lotte, son of Mr and Mrs. Frederick Lotte, of Cardington, was solemnized, Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Epworth M E. church.

At the appointed hour the bridal party entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Mattie Meredith, and slowly advanced to the chancel rail where they were met by Dr D. H. Bailey, who read the marriage ceremony in the presence of about seventy-five immediate friends and relatives. The bride, becomingly attired in a traveling costume of golden-brown silk poplin was given away by her uncle, Colonel G. B. Christian. There were no other attendants

Immediately after the ceremony Mr and Mrs. Lotte left for Chicago where they will spend their honeymoon. The friends gave them a sendoff at the train Returning they will be at home to their friends in a cosy home already prepared, at No 470 south Prospect street

The bride is an accomplished and pleasing young woman with a large circle of friends. She is a graduate of the local High school of the class of 1908, a member of the Philo Kai Adelphoi sorority. She taught during the past year in the Morral public schools. The groom came to Marion from Cardington five years ago. He is employed as a mechanical engineer by the Marion Shovel Dredge company and is a young man of excellent qualities

The guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs Frederick Lotte, Fred and Artie, and daughters, Ilan and Tarlon, of Cardington and Mrs. W. P. Rayl, sons, John Hazen, and daughters, Lottie and Margaret, of Richwood; Mrs. Frank D. Morris and sons, and Marion, of Green Camp; Mrs. H. A. Martin, daughter, well, and son. Lenole and Otpha Mehaffey, of Morral; Mrs. Morris and daughter, Demeral La Rue.

A BIG GATHERING OF WORKERS AT CHURCH

Sunday-Schools of Townshp Hold a Meeting.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED FOR THE COMING YEAR

Some Fine Vocal and Instrumental Music Is Enjoyed—Dr. M. B. Newhouse Delivers an Address on the Work of the Sunday-school—A Pleasant Evening.

A good-sized congregation of Sunday-school workers gathered at the United Brethren church, Friday evening, for the annual convention of the Marion Township Sunday-school association. An excellent program was rendered.

During the evening, the complete roster of officers of the association was reelected unanimously. The officers are:

N. E. Arnold, president; W. E. Coler, vice president; Miss Amanda Decker, secretary; Miss Lydia Ringer, treasurer; Mrs. O. A. Bussard, home department secretary; Mrs. H. E. Hill, teacher-training secretary; Mrs. Estella Dietsch, primary department secretary; Miss Mary Loyer, missionary secretary; Mrs. A. O. Jennings, temperance secretary.

Program Opened.

The program of the evening was opened with singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and the invocation was given by Rev. G. M. Rourke. N. E. Arnold, president of the association, was in charge and gave a short talk on the work in general after which official business was given attention.

Mrs. W. N. Harder sang a solo, after which Rev. J. W. Miles, of the United Brethren church gave an address on "The Sunday-school from the Standpoint of a Pastor." He said in part:

"The Sunday-school is a great field. Of all the church organizations I look upon the Sunday-school as the most fruitful field of the pastor's operation. If eighty-five per cent. or thereabouts of the church membership is gleaned from the Sunday-school, we must look toward the Sunday-school as the great source of our ingathering."

Excellent Talk.

W. C. Selanders gave an excellent talk upon 'The Sunday-School from the Standpoint of a Superintendent." He declared the superintendent loves to have teachers who know the Bible. He also loves to have teachers who know something of pedagogy who are born teachers. Some teachers will say they cannot devote their whole time to the Sunday-school lesson, but there is nothing more interesting and nothing of more profit. The superintendent needs teachers who have faith in God and in themselves and last but not least, he needs teachers who are soul-savers, who are anxious to get young people into the fold of the church.

Dr. M. B. Newhouse.

After a duet by Misses Mabel and Alma Bender and the reading of the treasurer's report, Dr. M. B. Newhouse gave an address, "The Financial Obligation of the Sunday-school to the Association." The importance of the Sunday-school and the need of promptly paying the assessments was spoken of by Dr. Newhouse. He declared the assessment of two cents a member was but a song and it should be paid. The Sunday-school work is a great one. Many of the great men of the land are engaged in it, among them several United States senators and members of the supreme court.

After another solo by Mrs. W. N. Harder, the report of the nominating committee was received. Rev. F. E. Zechiel spoke of the need of paying the assessments promptly and following a song, he pronounced the benediction.

ALTHIUS UNCAPHER'S DEATH IS ANNOUNCED

A Former Marion Butcher Dies in Kansas.

Word has been received here of the death of Althius Uncapher, a former Marion butcher, which occurred at his home at Burlington, Kansas, Friday at noon. Blood poisoning was the cause of death.

Mr. Uncapher was well known in this city, where he conducted a butcher shop with his brother, Isaiah Uncapher, on west Center street, about ten years ago. He was widely known at that time, having been born and reared in this county.

At the time of his death, Mr. Uncapher was sixty-six years of age. A wife and three children, two daughters and a son survive him. Three sisters reside in this city. They are Mrs. Charles Felty, Mrs. Robert Patton and Mrs. Benjamin Clark. Mrs. Katherine Coon, of Kenton, is also a sister. One brother, Isaiah, resides in Kansas.

The funeral services were held at Burlington and interment was made at that place.

Green Camp, O., May 27.—[Special.]—John Harold, the nine-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Leaverton died at the home of Mr. Leaverton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Leaverton, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Death was due to infantile troubles.

The remains were buried Saturday afternoon.

Value of Modern Education.

We learn a great deal that is useless about geography, but ask any simple question of the average "educated" person—the shortest route to Persia for instance, or how many days it takes to go to India or to Argentina—and you will probably receive a wrong answer or no answer at all.—Petite Republique.

Art Criticism.

"I rather like the motif of that picture," said Mrs. Oldcastle, after she had carefully inspected the new work of art. "Yes, so do I," replied her hostess, as they were passing from the gallery, "only both me and Josiah thought the artist meant it for a cow."—Chicago Record-Herald.

MRS. CHARLES WINCH SUES FOR A DIVORCE

Declares Her Husband Guilty of Extreme Cruelty.

PLAINTIFF SAYS SHE IS CURSED WHEN ILL

Petition for Divorce and Alimony Contains Remarks on the Personal Habits of the Defendant—Other Notes of Interest Gathered in the Common Pleas Court.

The most unclean man in Marion county, as well as one of the meanest, is Charles S. Winch, according to his wife, Cora Grace, who, through Attorney Louis E. Myers, filed a petition for a divorce in the common pleas court, Friday morning.

Mrs. Winch declares her husband, who is forty-one years of age and in good health, never took a bath except by wading in a stream when they lived near one. She says he objected to her bathing their child and cursed her when she attempted to do so.

"He never changed his clothing," the petition reads. "He put it on when he bought it and he never took it off until it was worn into shreds."

The plaintiff says that her husband compelled her to live in the heart of a dense woods, in Tully township, in a shack built out of large boards nailed to posts, "with building paper as inside covering."

When she was operated on for appendicitis in a Bucyrus hospital, the wife avers that her husband cursed her and said the expense of the operation was needless. Besides charging him with extreme cruelty and gross neglect, she says he is guilty of immoral conduct with other women.

The Winches were married May 2, 1895, and they are the parents of a daughter, now six years old. The husband is the owner of an undivided interest in 175 acres in Tully township. The wife claims that he heavily mortgaged a property owned by him and then sold it, the proceeds amounting to considerable more than the mortgage indebtedness. She asks for a divorce, exclusive custody of their child, reasonable alimony and that the remaining property be decreed to her. An order restraining the defendant from disposing of his property was granted.

A suit to recover judgment on a promissory note for $254.94 and for $315 for board and room when he lived in Chicago, Mary Taylor, through Attorneys Mouser & Moloney, brought an action against C. Mayo Osborne in the common pleas court, Friday morning. The plaintiff says that he roomed and boarded with her from July 15, 1907, to February 1, 1910, and she asks judgment for $254.94 on the promissory note with interest from date, and judgment for $315 with interest from July 15, 1907. The petition sets up that the defendant, now a resident of Boston, is the owner of the undivided one-half interest in property on north State street left by his deceased mother, Mrs. Alice J. Harris. Mrs. Taylor was raised by Mrs. Harris. When the plaintiff was married and moved to Chicago, Mrs. Harris, as long as she lived, paid her so much a month for boarding her son, according to Mrs. Taylor's attorneys.

Christina S. Wildermuth was granted a divorce from Fred C. Wildermuth by Judge Scofield, Friday morning. She charges gross neglect of duty and desertion. The Wildermuths were married in this city, June 18, 1896. A thirteen-year-old daughter was given in the custody of the mother.

Charles G. Avers, who drilled two tests wells for oil and gas for the Prospect Oil & Gas company, brought an action to recover $367.19, with interest from May 1, 1911, from the company, in the common pleas court, Saturday morning.

The petition, which was filed by Attorney Homer E. Johnson, sets up that the plaintiff entered into a written contract with the company, April 24, 1910, to sink one or more wells for oil or gas. The written contract, which was signed by Senator R. H. Pinefrock as president and Samuel Almendinger as secretary, specified that he was to receive seventy-five cents a foot, seventy cents of which was to be in cash and five cents in stock. Each well was to be drilled 100 feet into Trenton rock and for every foot over 100 feet into Trenton the plaintiff was to receive $1.50 a foot, or $1.40 in cash and ten cents in stock.

The plaintiff represents that he received for drilling two "dusters," $135.90 in stock and was entitled to $1,902.60 in cash. He says he received only $1,520.41 in money and now asks judgment of $367.19.

The Prospect Oil & Gas company disbanded some time ago and the stockholders will be liable to assessment if the plaintiff in the present action obtains judgment for the amount sough:

An answer to the defendant's cross-petition, setting up a general denial, has been filed in the suit of Wilbert L. Beers against Charles Roberts.

In the suit of Lucius T. Goodnow and Willis D. Newton, as administrators of the estate of the late Josephus Goodnow, against the Central Christian church and others, defendants John D. Owens, Mary J. Evans and Leonard Price, as executors of the last will and testament of John Owens, deceased, have filed an answer to the amended and supplemental petition. They deny that they are indebted to the plaintiffs in any sum whatsoever, and ask that they may be dismissed.

Monday Judge Daniel Babst, of Crestline, heard arguments for and against the filing of intervening petitions in the old suit of Newton J. Catrow against the Columbus, Delaware & Marion Railway company. He reserved decision.

Attorney Fred E. Guthery, co-receiver with George Whysall of the Columbus, Marion & Bucyrus Railway company, appeared as counsel for the Columbus Railway & Light company and the New York Coal company, which are protesting against the reappointment of another receiver for the C., D. & M. by this court.

Mr. Guthery said that ninety-seven different papers had already been filed in the case in Franklin county and that eighty-four orders and entries affecting a large number of parties, whose interest in the aggregate amount to $2,000,000, had been made by Judge Kinkead. He said that Receiver Eli M. West, of Columbus, during the time he has been receiver, had collected and expended over $650,000, entered into two contracts with the Wells Fargo company express for carrying freight, bought six new passenger cars for use on the Marion Street Railway company's lines and one new interurban express car, rebuilt three interurban passenger cars, repainted nearly every car in use and made many improvements to tracks, bridges, etc.

Two hundred and thirty corporations, co-partnerships and various persons have intervened in the proceeding and asserted their claims as creditors of the company in the Franklin county court, Mr. Guthery declared. Many of these claims have been allowed, he said. He appeared only for the purpose of objecting to and protesting against Judge Babst taking jurisdiction after a lapse of twenty-two months.

The long story of the C., D. & M. litigation was taken up from the beginning and threshed out by Attorney Guthery. Attorney Thomas J. Keating, of Columbus, representing the New York Coal company and the Columbus Railway & Light company, also made a long argument against the reappointment of a receiver.

Judge C. C. Williams, of Columbus, argued against the filing of the intervening petitions of the two companies represented by Attorneys Guthery and Keating, and General E. B. Finley, of Bucyrus, argued in behalf of a number of preferred stockholders, who desire to file an interpleader asking that a receiver be reappointed by this court.

Attorneys Harry West and Smith W. Bennett, of Columbus, counsel for Receiver West, were in the courtroom throughout the long arguments, but they took no part.

Judge Babst showed a keen interest in all of the arguments and frequently plied the attorneys with questions as to the facts.

John H. Clark, administrator of the estate of Fred F. Miller, has brought an action in the common pleas court against the Chicago & Erie Railroad company to recover judgment for $360. In the petition it is set up that thirty tons of hay were destroyed by fire as a result of a spark flying from a locomotive smokestack.

In the damage suit of Frank C. Hoy, next best friend of Ethel Hoy, against the Big Four Railroad company, an answer has been filed by the defendant company, through its attorneys, Frank Littleton and Harry N. Quigley, of Cincinnati.

A transcript of the suit of Philip Datt, executor of the last will and testament of Henry Behner, against C. Neimeyer, has been filed in the common pleas court. It is appealed from the court of Justice Noah C. Gast, of Prospect. The plaintiff got judgment for $85.50.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLARS AT UPPER SANDUSKY

Ascension Day Is Observed There Sunday.

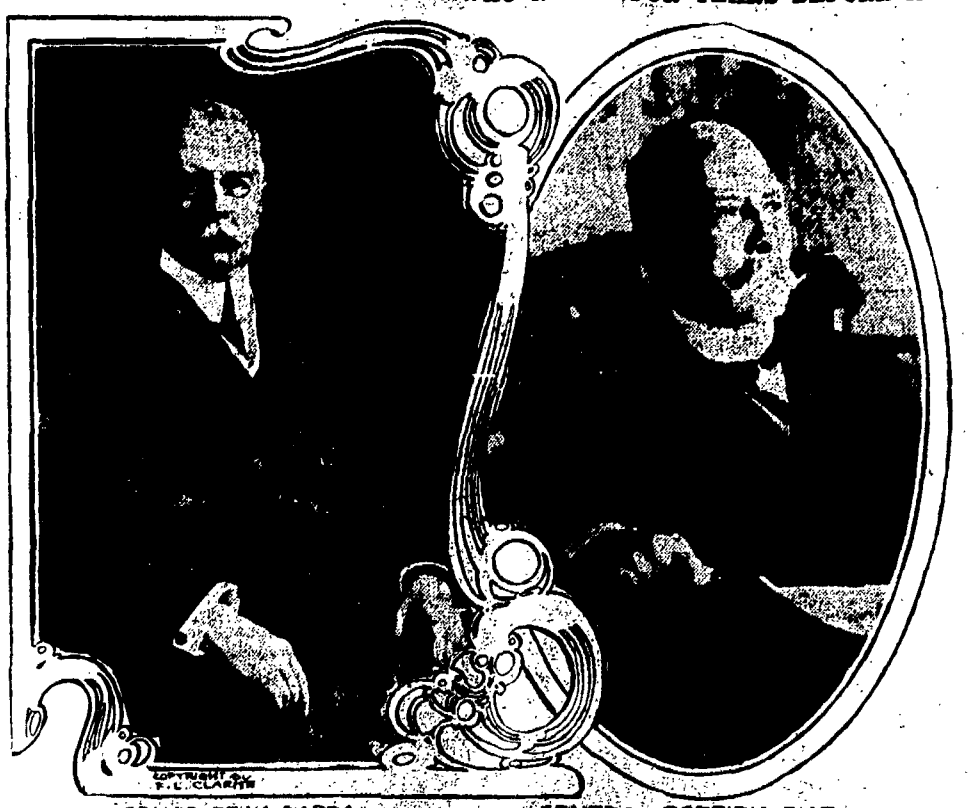
REV. J. P. CURRIN DELIVERS ADDRESS

Marion Commandery Joins the Masons of Upper Sandusky in Special Services—The Eagles Enjoy a Picnic in a Grove North of the City—Lodge Notes.

A picnic was enjoyed by the Marion Aerie of Eagles, at the W. A. Monnette grove, north of the city, Sunday. A large number were in attendance, many going over the C., M. & B. interurban and many by automobile. The day was spent in a delightful manner and a picnic dinner was served. The affair was one of the most successful held for some time.

Ascension day services were held by Marion Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templars, at the Masonic temple in Upper Sandusky, Sunday afternoon. There was a large attendance, with a big representation from this city. An excellent program was given. It was opened with an organ voluntary by Miss Anna Peters. The scripture lesson was read by Albert J. Whiting and prayer was offered by Rev. J. P. Currin, who also delivered a sermon on the theme, "The Royal Ascent." Rev. C. D. Kriete, of the German Lutheran church at Upper Sandusky, sang "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and the program was closed with "The King of Glory" by the quartet.

THE PROVISIONAL PRESIDENT OF MEXICO AND THE MAN WHO RULED FOR YEARS BEFORE HIM



SENOR DE LA BARRA GENERAL PORFIRIO DIAZ

A NATION'S CHANCE.

By William T. Ellis.

The International Sunday-School Lesson for June 4 is, "Israel's Penitence and God's Pardon," Hosea 4.

One man's trouble sometimes becomes the world's welfare. Personal grief has often driven many a man into public service. Plunged into the bitterness of sorrow himself, a man becomes broadened and humanized, and quick to take thought for the grief of others. Thus William Wallace, by the murder of his bride, according to the familiar story, was led to espouse the cause of Scotland. So the author of this book, from which many of the familiar phrases of literature are taken, became a prophet through the horrible disaster which befell his own home, probably through the immoralities of idolatry. His wife proved false to him; the children about his table were not his own children, and at length his wife fell to the state of an open and avowed public prostitute. Later, in her inevitable misery and forsakenness, her husband took her back to himself; not as a wife, of course, for such a restoration would have been impossible, but as a poor, penitent creature to be cared for so long as she should survive.

Thus came into being this incoherent prophecy of Hosea. The early chapters are a strange blending of the story of Hosea's domestic calamity, and the faithlessness of Israel, the bride of God, to her Lord. The erring nation, which had gone after strange gods, is addressed and described under the figure of a harlot. The completeness of her decline from her former glory, and her fall from her blessed privileges, is set forth most tragically by the man whose own poignant grief feathered the arrows of his speech.

When Nations Go Astray.

The futility as well as the folly of sin is a lesson which man has been slow to learn. "It is worse than a crime; it is a blunder," is a famous mot of general application to sin. That "honesty is the best policy," is a low reason for being honest is true; nevertheless, it is a valid reason. "Virtue is its own reward," but it also, eventually and in general, brings other more tangible rewards in its train. Israel's defection to idolatrous nations was bad policy, as well as a sin against the Most High.

The prophet adverts again and again to Egypt and Assyria, the two great heathen nations after the ways of which Israel lusted, and insists that their favor is not comparable to that of Jehovah. In the ever-recurring choice between the changing fashions of earth and the changeless way of heaven, Israel was electing to do the popular thing, rather than the right thing. But most seekers after popularity are short-sighted; and the erring Jews were pinning their confidence to a losing cause. The boasted and boastful Memphis and Asshur, to which Hosea alludes, are now ruins, long forgotten, until the spade of the archaeologist turned them up; I have walked over both of them, and above all their buried pillars and palaces could be read, "Ichabod,"—"the glory has departed."

This flaming Jew of old, whose words are, today being conned by millions, was thinking in national terms. He was able, especially in the latter part of his prophecy, to rise above what was personal and temporal in the situation, and deal with national problems. The art of thinking imperially is one that the teachers of today should impart to all their pupils. It is fair and reasonable exegesis to apply this story to our own land and time. In its early days, and time of weakness, this nation was deeply and publicly religious. Now, in the time of our prosperity, we are tempted to go after the idols of show and wealth and material power, leaning upon Assyria and Egypt, as it were. So the prophet message for the hour is a summons back to our first love, and to a childlike loyalty to Jehovah. The greatest of present-day prophets speaks it in his "Song of the English:"

"Fair is our lot—Oh goodly is our heritage!
Humble ye, my people, and be fearful in your mirth!
For the Lord our God Most High
He hath made the deep as dry,
He hath smote for us a pathway to the ends of all the earth!
Hold ye the Faith—the Faith our Fathers sealed us;
Whoring not with visions—overwise and overstale.
Except ye pay the Lord
Single heart and single sword,
Of your children in their bondage shall He ask them treble-tale!
Keep ye the Law—be swift in all obedience—
Clear the land of evil, drive the road and bridge the ford.
Make ye sure to each his own.
That he reap where he hath sown;
By the peace among Our peoples let men know we serve the Lord."

Torch Never Goes Out.

If anybody thinks that history goes by haphazard, let him look at the Jews, Babylonia, Egypt, Assyria, Persia, Greece, Rome, all have perished and become memories, but this strange little people, often oppressed and led captive, dispersed among the nations, so that, were they like other peoples they would long ere this have lost their identity and been merged with the races about them, yet nevertheless, persist in their racial integrity in all lands and despite all vicissitudes. Israel is a torch lighted by God, and he has not let any of the fiercest blasts of history blow it out. Sometimes it has been trampled into embers, and scattered widely, and the fragments seem to smoulder at a point just above extinction; but the fire still burns, and from it has come the Light to lighten many nations.

One who has traveled in the lands with which the Bible deals finds himself in the grip of a great conviction concerning the Jews. In them he beholds the clearest attestation of the truth of Old Testament prophecy. He sees them living, and at present in growing power, in the lands of their former exile, though their ancient oppressors have been gone from the scene for centuries. In Bagdad, there has been within a generation a strange recrudescence of the vitality of the huge Jewish population. Long in poverty and misery, they are now lifting up their heads in prosperity, are building great schools, teaching their sons and daughters the English language, and making ready to profit by the rehabilitation of Mesopotamia, through the irrigation project of Sir William Willcocks. In Palestine also, although opposed by the Turkish government, the Jews are steadily increasing in numbers and power. Link these facts with the cognate fact that the Jews are increasing in might in America and Europe, and that the archaeologists are making strange new discoveries, in Samaria and Jerusalem, concerning the history of the chosen people, and one is bound to pause and ask, "What do these things mean?" Surely, there is one persisting divine purpose running through all the course of history.

Religion for Men Who Sin.

In the contemplative philosophies of the East, there is much that is attractive to a speculative mind; and not a few Europeans have been so far recreant to the teachings of history, and their own racial inheritance, as to accept these as their religion, discarding Christianity. All other considerations aside, however, these ethnic religions fail because they do not provide pardon for man's sins. In the summer days of thoughtlessness these vague teachings may please, but in the stress and struggle and sin of real living the human heart cries aloud for forgiveness. Like Israel of old, men are still prone to slip away from their great allegiance, and to seek false gods. An ever-present reality, with which all sound philosophy and history must reckon, is the huge fact of sin. You can not explain yourself, nor your neighbor, nor that aggregation of neighbors called the world, unless you take sin into account. That is why we must have a tender-hearted Father God, who is "slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy."

Russia's foreign policy is often pointed to us as an instance of indomitable patience, and men marvel at this large-mindedness. But what of the patience of Jehovah, who has waited millenniums for the fulfilment of his purposes, and for the return of his wandering children? There is nothing else like it in the universe; It can only be measured by the distance from the East to the West. The forbearing heart of God is enough to break a human heart of adamant.

"For the love of God is broader
Than the measures of man's mind,
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully kind."

Hope for the Heartsick.

This is the promise which Hosea holds out. Despite all the backslidings of Israel, Jehovah would yet abundantly pardon. That is the word for the sore hearts of men. Everybody who at all knows himself knows that his deepest need is forgiveness. He wants that peace which only right relations with God can impart. All that he has will a man give for this. The remoteness from God which is a penalty of sin is the tragedy above all other tragedies. We are solicitous about one another's earthly estate, and we congratulate our neighbor when fortune comes to him, and sympathize when losses befall, but we seldom wonder about his real welfare, the state of his spirit. "Is it well with the soul?" is the deepest question that friend may presume to ask of friend. And to hold out, tactfully and lovingly, the hope which is the climax of Hosea's prophecy is the noblest office that man can render to man.

AN ERIE FIREMAN IS VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Henry Quentmeier Is Scalded at Galion Saturday.

HENRY WAGNER IN WRECK AT ASHLAND

Suffers Injuries by Jumping from Engine When Train Strikes a Cut of Cars—The Flat Rate of Twenty-Five Cents for Carrying Dogs Is Removed—Railroad Notes.

Alfred Wagner, an Erie fireman, suffered a sprain of his right knee and back and injuries to his left hand, in jumping from his engine with Engineer W. H. Mahola near Ashland, Saturday, when the freight train which they were pulling collided with a cut of cars. Through some misunderstanding, the men were not aware that the cars were ahead and as soon as they saw the cars, they jumped. Considerable damage was done.

Henry Quentmeier, an Erie fireman, well known through here, was severely scalded about the head and body, Saturday, at Galion, when steam from a hose on his engine was thrown in his face. He will be off duty several days as a result of the accident.

Many refrigerator cars are being sent through here over the Erie and a great deal of ice is being needed at all points. At nearly all division points, the cars are being given a new supply. It has caused a big run on the ice-houses.

Tariffs have been filed by the Erie railroad establishing a fifty-two-cent rate on freight between New York and Chicago. This rate is twenty-three cents lower than the present all-rail standard rate between these points.

In the future dogs will not be carried in Central Passenger association territory at the flat rate of twenty-five cents. They must be shipped as regular baggage and charged for at the rate of excess baggage for twenty-five pounds.

The Erie has arranged to give special rates for the big military tournament at Chicago in July.

MESSENGER'S BODY IS FOUND IN THE LAKE

Mystery of Missing Mail Clerk Is Cleared.

FISHERMAN FINDS THE BODY SUNDAY MORNING

Postal Inspectors State That Engagement They Have with Dead Man Is Purely of Personal Nature—Speak of Him in Glowing Terms—Former Caledonia Man.

The body of Homer M. Messenger, the railway mail clerk, who was born and reared at Caledonia, was found floating in the waters of Lake Erie, Sunday morning. Last Tuesday morning, Messenger started out on the Rocky river to fish and disappeared, the boat being found later with the lines dangling overboard. The body was brought to Caledonia where interment was made.

A fisherman, bound for the Cleveland market with fish, saw the body floating a short distance from his boat and feared to take it on board because it would interfere with the sale of his fish. He later notified the life-saving station and the body was brought to shore and taken to an undertaker's morgue.

The finding of the body upsets the theory that Messenger's disappearance was a ruse planned by him to evade investigation by postal inspectors whom he was to have met the morning of his disappearance. The inspectors now say that the matter to have been taken up with him was of a personal nature and had nothing to do with his activity in forming a railway mail clerk's union, which was opposed very vigorously by the postoffice department.

There is some intimation of suicide, but those closely in touch with the case believe that his death was due to an accident. On his body was found a postcard he had written the morning of his death offering his home in exchange for a farm.

Messenger is referred to by the postal inspectors as one of the best workmen running between Cleveland and Cincinnati. The only objection raised against him was that he joined a union.

THE BACHMAN HOME VISITED BY THIEVES

Diamonds and a Pearl Brooch Are Stolen.

A TRAMP IS GIVEN DINNER AT THE HOME

Is Believed He Has Accomplice Who Enters Front of House and Secures the Valuables—Diamond Ring Missing from Another Home. Some Police Court Notes.

Mrs. A. C. Bachman, of east Center street, is mourning the loss of two diamond rings and a pearl brooch, with a solitaire diamond in the center. The loss of the rings and brooch was discovered by Mrs. Bachman, Sunday morning, when she went to the jewel case on her dresser to get them. Mrs. Bachman had taken off the jewels, Thursday, and placed them in the jewel case, where they were always kept. Sunday was the first time she looked for them after placing them in the case.

Saturday noon, a tramp was fed at the Bachman home and did a little pumping in the cellar. However, he was in no other part of the house so far as is known. Later, Mrs. L. D. Hamilton saw the same tramp with another man in the East End, and both seemed to be joyous over something. The tramp who was fed at the Bachman home ate his dinner on the back porch. It is believed the other man was his accomplice, and entered the front door and stole the valuables. Nothing else in the house was disturbed.

A fine diamond ring belonging to Miss O'Brien, of east Church street, is also strangely missing.

Uhler Kannel, aged eighteen, is being looked for by the police on a charge of stealing $10 from his brother H. V. Kannel, of west Church street. The boy was staying with his brother and while the members of the family were away, Saturday afternoon, he took the money from his brother's dresser. Later he hired a horse at the livery barn of W. E. Davis & Son, and drove towards Scott Town. He called in, Saturday evening, and asked Davis if he could keep the horse over Sunday. Davis informed him that the animal had to be returned that evening as it was engaged for Sunday.

Kannel failed to show up with the horse and Davis got on his track by telephoning to Scott Town. He secured an automobile, Sunday, and started for that place. A short distance from Scott Town he found his horse tied to a tree, but the renter of the rig had disappeared and could not be found. The brother of the boy reported him to the police. Kannel paid for the use of the rig for the time he promised to keep it.

Called to Canada.

Miss Dottie Lafevre left for Edmonton, Saskatchewan, Canada, Sunday morning, in response to a message announcing the dangerous illness of her fiance, Bert McDowel. The message came from Miss Lafevre's brother, who is with the young man at that place. Mr. McDowel is quite well known here.

RICHWOOD SCHOOLS GRADUATE STUDENTS

Commencement Exercises Held in Opera-House.

THE EXERCISES ARE LARGELY ATTENDED

Each of the Graduates Contributes an Oration Which Is Heard with Interest—At a Meeting of the Board of Education the Teachers for Next Year Are Hired.

Richwood, O., May 27.—[Special.]—The annual commencement exercises of the Richwood high school were held in the opera-house, Thursday evening. The weather was ideal and the attendance was very large. The stage was beautifully decorated to represent a garden scene and was illuminted with Japanese lanterns. The class colors, gold and white, were used very effectively and a banner bearing the class motto, "Servus Verum," in gold and white, was suspended across the proscenium arch.

The class address was delivered by William McK. Vance, superintendent of the Delaware public schools. It was a very able address and was much enjoyed. The Ziegler-Howe Orchestral club, of Columbus, furnished the music and played selections throughout the program. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. M. R. Stover; after which Roy Alban Biddle delivered an oration on, "Power of Early Impressions," and Miss Florence Ethel Hitt contributed an oration entitled, "The Ministry of Nature." A flute solo, "The Butterfly," by Charles T. Howe, was followed by an oration, "The Signs of the Times," by Floyd LaRue Allen. Miss Inez Martin gave her oration on, "Schumann," and Mr. Rush K. Seig contributed one on, "Young Men's Christian Association." "The Struggle for Liberty," was the subject of Ernest L. Stover's oration. "The Worth of an Education," by Vernard Delano Coe was followed by the class history by Samuel O. Seig, and an oration, "Life," by Ralph Emerson Horton. Mr. Vance then gave the class address and the diplomas were presented by Superintendent D. E. Black.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Berke left, Wednesday, for Cleveland, where they will spend some time with their son, Mark Berke, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush Cheney were the guests, Thursday, of friends in Marion.

Mrs. Joseph Embrey very delightfully entertained a company of young people, Wednesday evening, at her home on east Ottawa street, in honor of her son, Morrow Embrey, and his bride, who came here a few days ago from Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The hours were passed with music and other divehsions, and dainty refreshments were served.

At a meeting of the Richwood board of education, Wednesday evening, considerable business was transacted and affairs pertaining to the past year's work were satisfactorily adjusted. MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD AT RICHWOOD

Rev. J. R. Lloyd Pays a Tribute to the Veterans.

ADDRESS IS HEARD BY LARGE AUDIENCE

Members of the G. A. R. and Relief Corps Are in Attendance—The Funeral Services of the Late Jane Graham—Funeral of Late Mrs. D. B. Cahill—Some Richwood Notes.

Richwood, O., June 1.—[Special] Beautiful memorial services were held Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church. Livingston Post, G. A. R, and Livingston Relief corps, attended the service in a body, and greatly enjoyed the address delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. R Lloyd. The speaker took for his text the seventh verse of the fourth chapter of II. Timothy, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith." His tribute to the Grand Army of the Republic was greatly appreciated by the veterans. Rev. E. E. Pedicord assisted in the service and special music was rendered by the church choir. Tuesday morning the veterans and the members of the Relief corps, together with a large number of citizens, went to Claiborne cemetery, where the graves of departed comrades were decorated and brief services were held. In the afternoon a fine program was rendered in the opera-house. The speaker for the occasion was William M. Haines, chaplain of the Soldiers and Sailors' home, at Sandusky. His speech was very patriotic and won for him many friends in Richwood. Miss Rachel Barker gave Lincoln's Gettysburg address and music was furnished by the G. A. R. quartet, Messrs. J. A. RULING IS GIVEN AS TO FAMILY SHIPMENTS

Number of Families May Ship Goods in One Car.

CAN TAKE ADVANTAGE OF CARLOAD RATES

Ruling Is Given by Interstate Commerce Commission—Railroads Are Short in Equipment To Meet the Demands of Shippers—Some Local Railway News Notes.

After Thursday, June 1, the railroad companies may not inquire regarding the number of families shipping goods in a single freight car or separate the goods, charging for the separate shipments. In the past it has been customary for two or more families to go together and ship their goods in a car at carload rates. A recent case involved this right before the Interstate commerce commision and as a result of its findings, the commission has sent out notices regarding the matter.

Regarding the proposed cut in freight rates between New York and Chicago on the Erie which was recently referred to, the Cincinnati Enquirer says: One of the mysteries of the railroad world is the determination of the Delaware & Hudson and Erie to enforce a new differential rate from the Atlantic seaboard to Chicago, as this is considered by many an inopportune, illogical and incomprehensible move. The Erie has just completed a low-grade cut-off from New York to Port Jarvis, which gives the road materially increased trackage facilities with possibilities for great economy in handling through allrail business, yet the new rate will naturally divert a large part of its traffic up the Hudson river. It is pointed out that on this traffic the Erie will make a division of a short low-rate haul with the Delaware & Hudson and lose a high-rate all-rail haul from New York to the Great Lakes.

The various railroads are far behind in their equipment for handling the big crops soon to be ready and it is said that big orders will be placed shortly for equipment.

POLITICAL EXILES SUFFER TERRIBLY

Astonishing Revelations Are Made in St. Petersburg Today.

St. Petersburg, May 31.—Astonishing revelations of the suffering of political exiles deported to Archangelsk, the most northerly province of Russia, are published here today.

One of the most desolate settlements is the village of Kedva. It consists of sixty wooden huts inhabited by the natives, who are a mixed race, partly Esquimaux and partly Tartar Those exiles who can afford it are allowed to lodge with the natives in the foul atmosphere of their miserable hovels, while a large barn with straw scattered over the floor is provided for those unable to pay any rent.

From April to October there is one small store in the village and during the remaining five months of the year none at all. From April till October, the mails arrive twice a month, but the postal service is entirely suspended from November till March. There is no priest or pastor, no medical man and no pharmacy in the place, which is surrounded by gloomy forests infested by bears and wolves. The nearest settlement is sixty miles distant.

HUGH GILLESPIE IS VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Has Left Foot Mangled by a Switch Engine.

Hugh Gillespie, fifty years old, a well known police character, had his left foot mangled by a switch engine near the Union Depot hotel, Tuesday night at 10:25 o'clock. The police say he was intoxicated and was sitting or lying along the Erie tracks with one foot partly over the rail. He was discovered immediately after the accident and removed in the Hess & Markert ambulance to a local hospital, where Drs. James Wilson McMurray and J. B. Taylor amputated the foot at the instep

THE EDGINGTON HOME SCENE OF GATHERING

Ladies' Aid Society Enjoys Fine Meeting.

SOME BUSINESS IS GIVEN ATTENTION

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kring Entertain a Party of Friends at Dinner. Teachers for the Next Year in the Public Schools Are Elected—Caledonia Notes of the Week.

Caledonia, O, June 2.—[Special.] The Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church was entertained, Thursday evening, at the parsonage by Mrs. C. W. Edgington. About twenty-five members were in attendance. The meeting was opened by devotional exercises conducted by Mrs. M. R. Harrison. The regular routine business was then transacted. Mrs. Hollie Kinnamon gave a very pleasing solo and little Miss Victoria Carson gave a reading. Miss Martha Harrison closed the program with a solo, "Take Me Back to Babyland." Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. The guests, aside from the members, were Mrs. Clem Apt, Mrs. A. F. Kinnamon, Mrs. Harrison Kinnamon, Mrs. K. P. Meister, Mrs. S. A. McKeehen, Mrs. W. W. Campbell, Mrs. L. S. Irey and the Misses Mary Bitler, Ethel Bolinger and Laura Garber.

Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Kring entertained a party of friends at a dinner party, Tuesday evening. A five-course dinner was served at 7:30 o'clock, covers being laid for six-teen. The decorations were pink roses and peonies and dainty hand-painted cards were used as plate favors. Those who enjoyed the hospitality of the host and hostess were Dr. John Rolfe, Mrs. Heath Garretson, Mrs. F. A. Roberts, Rev. and Mrs. C. A. R. Edgington, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Anthony, and the Misses Gertrude Seckel, Mellicent Fields and Florence Morrow, of this place; Mrs. Daisy Rolfe, of Pemberville and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bogan, of Galion. A pleasant evening was spent with games and music.

Mrs. T. J. Anderson returned, Tuesday evening, from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. John Thomas, in Columbus. Her little grandson, John Thomas, accompanied her home.

Miss Olive Bayles, of Cleveland, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs George Bayles, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Murrel Waite visited relatives in Chesterville the first of the week.

John Ruff died at his home, two miles east of this place, Monday evening at 4 o'clock, after a lingering illness of liver trouble. His health had been declining for several years, but he was bedfast only about three weeks. The deceased was born near New Winchester, April 22, 1858, hence had attained the age of fifty-three years, one month and seven days. He was married to Lizabeth Slagle, September 20, 1857. Two children, a son and daughter, were born to this union. The son, Verne, died in 1904 at the age of ten years. The daughter, Mrs Augustus Lowmiller, with the widow and one grandchild, survive. A brother, Henry Ruff, resides in Marion, and another brother, Jacob Ruff, in Sandusky. The sisters of the deceased are Mrs. James Lantz and Mrs Edward Coulter, both of this place. Mr. Ruff had been a life-long resident of this vicinity and was loved and respected by all who knew him. The funeral was held at the home, Wednesday afternoon, and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Klein, of the German Reformed church. The Knights of Pythias lodge, of which he was a member, conducted services at the Caledonia cemetery, where the interment was made.

The local club played ball with the Mt. Victory team at Osborn's park, Tuesday afternoon, the Mt Victory boys winning the game by a score of thirteen to twelve. The game was very interesting, lasting fifteen innings. Each team had a score of twelve at the end of the ninth inning. A large crowd was present.

The Delta Sigma sorority entertained its gentlemen friends at a May party, last Friday evening, in the opera-house hall. The guests were received by the Misses Mabel Fell and Cartha Bell. The hall was beautifully decorated in flowers and the sorority colors of yellow and white. A season of dancing and games was enjoyed by the young people. Punch was served throughout the evening and a two-course luncheon was served at a late hour. Those entertained were Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Harrison, Messrs. Charles Gillespie, of Marion, John Armstrong, of La Rue, Ivan Downs, Clarence Rutherford, Van Watts, Glen Burton, Robin Downs and James Irwin.

THE HAPPY FAMILY WITH GENTRY SHOW

Will Be Seen in This City Friday, June 9.

"A touch of nature makes the whole world kin," and the touch of nature that is brought out by the Snyder family with Gentry bothers' all new feature shows brings all audiences to hearty laughter The Snyder family is the unique climax of an idea conceived by one of the trainers. The trainer is also a mechanic. At odd times around winter quarters he built a little family carriage, made a tiny set of harness, several dresses, and everything else that goes to make up the toggery for a family out riding. Then he drew upon dogs and monkeys for his characters. Two big dogs were chosen for steeds. Another big dog, but of different color, was chosen for Mr. Snyder. Then Mrs. Snyder was found, and a nice new dress was fitted.

From among other dogs a little terrier was chosen for the Snyder baby. Of course the baby had to have a nurse. A monkey was elected, and a larger monkey was enosen for the coachman. After much rehearsal the animals were working perfectly. Now they drive in state into the tent of Gentry brothers' shows.

The family pays a visit while the monkey nurse takes the baby outside. When the coach returns it is turned over. The coachman rights it, and the nurse attends the injured members.

The manner in which these animals go through their entertaining work is one of the most laughable features of Gentry brothers' shows. With them the Snyder family will visit this city Friday, June 9. For this engagement, only, admission is reduced to twenty-five and thirty-five cents.

The Big Island Free Will Baptist church will hold children's day exercises, Sunday evening, June 18.

THE COMMISSION TO MEET AT COURTHOUSE

Will Organize Monday as Required by Law.

MUCH RESPONSIBILITY RESTS WITH BOARD

The Commission Must Meet the First Monday in June Every Year and Must Complete Its Labors by the First Monday in July—Members of the Board.

Marion county's tax-budget commission, which was created by the Smith one-per-cent. bill, will meet in the courthouse, Monday, as required under the statute, for the purpose of organization. The commission consists of County Auditor Charles L. Allen and Mayor John G. Seiter, Republicans, and Prosecuting Attorney Charles L. Justice, Democrat. They will serve without extra compensation.

In the future all of the taxing boards in the county, such as the county commissioners, township trustees, school boards, etc., will have to submit their proposed levies to the tax-budget commission, which will pare and adjust as it sees fit.

It is generally conceded that membership on the new board will be the most powerful office in the county.

Under the law, the commission must meet the first Monday in June of every year and complete its work by the first Monday in July. The statute makes the county auditor the secretary of the board.

Next Monday, the local board will elect a chairman and make arrangements for sending out blanks to the various taxing boards of the county to make their returns.

The law specifies that the commission shall consist of the county auditor, prosecuting attorney and the mayor of the largest municipality in the county.

OBITUARY.

Philbrick—Albert Ferris Philbrick was born January 31, 1859, at Royalton, Fairfield county. In his earlier infancy he was consecrated to his Lord in holy baptism. After spending his childhood and youth in Fairfield county, he moved to Upper Sandusky, about the year 1882. In that city he lived a number of years filling the office of a public school teacher. April 18, 1885, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Margaret Stutz This marriage God blessed with two children, one of whom has preceded the father into the better world. May 6, 1894, he was confirmed in the Evangelical Lutheran church, by Rev. E. F. W. Helle, and has ever since that time remained a faithful member of the church. In 1906, he moved to Marion, and has ever since been an honored and respected citizen of this city. Ever since we have known Mr. Philbrick, he has been a faithful member of the church. He was not satisfied simply to be a passive member, and to permit others to do the work. He was always in the lead and was doing all that he could to promote the welfare of the church. For several years, he was a member of the vestry and secretary of the congregation. Until the first of last January he was superintendent of the Sunday-school, and remained the teacher of a class as long as his strength permitted. As long as he was able he also took an active interest in the work of the choir. His place in the church was never vacant unless it was absolutely necessary. In the death of Mr. Philbrick our congregation has suffered great loss. The sufferings of his final illness he bore with great patience. His Bible and prayer-book were his constant companions and comforters. He had the certainty that he was a child of God through his faith in Christ Jesus, and as such it mattered little to him whether he lived or died. His constant prayer was "Father, Thy will be done." For several years, prior to his death Mr. Philbrick had been ailing. Neither he, himself, however, nor his friends realized the seriousness of his condition until the insidious disease, nephritis, had taken such a hold upon him that recovery was no longer to be hoped for. May 28, at 10 a. m., he peacefully fell asleep. He attained the age of fifty-two years, three months and twenty-eight days. He leaves to mourn his sad departure his wife, Mrs. Anna Philbrick; his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Philbrick, four sisters, Mrs. Minta Ebright, of Witchita, Kansas; Mrs. Ida Keeser, of Bowen, West Virginia; Mrs. Elizabeth Berry, of Lancaster; Mrs Laura Wright, of Radnor; one brother, Frank Philbrick, of Lancaster, and a host of other relatives and friends. The funeral was conducted at the residence of the deceased on Willow street, Tuesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Schillinger preached the funeral sermon. Interment was made in the Marion cemetery.

Pearl Dundore Hurt.

Pearl Dundore, of Mansfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dundore, of west Church street, was badly injured at that place, Sunday, by being thrown from a horse he was riding. His head was severely cut, his back injured and his body badly bruised. Mrs. J. H. Dundore left for Mansfield, Tuesday, to be at the bedside of her son.

Viyella is a material admirably adpted for outdoor sports, children's dresses and the kimono and dressing jacket.

WORK DONE BY THE ASSEMBLY

pledges from candidates before election.

Initiative and Referendum for Municipalities—Requires thirty per cent. of the voters on a petition for the initiative and fifteen per cent. for the referendum.

Progressive Bills Killed.

Many important progressive measures were not passed by the seventy-ninth Ohio legislature. Most of them were killed on the floor of either the house or senate, while others were buried in committee by reactionaries and prevented from coming to a vote. But whether killed on the floor or buried in committee, the net result against the people was the same

Statewide Primary—A bill which provided that all elective state officers should be nominated by direct primary.

Non-Partisan Nomination of Judges—A bill intended to supplement the non-partisan election of judges, by providing that all candidates for judicial places should be nominated by petition only.

Miners' Coal-Screening Bill—An important measure to miners, providing that coal brought up from the mines should be weighed before being screened.

Municipal Ownership of Street Railway Lines—A bill that gave cities a weapon with which to fight street car corporations by permitting a city to acquire and operate its own lines.

Uniform Schoolbook Bill — A measure promised the people by the Democratic state platform. Provided for a uniform system of schoolbooks throughout the state.

Bank Guarantee Bill—A measure designed to protect bank depositors. Killed largely through influences brought to bear on legislators by bankers "back home."

A Blow at Reform.

Presidential Preference—A bill designed to permit the individual voter to express his preference for president when he voted for delegates to the national convention.

Jury Reform—A measure designed to correct many abuses in the present day jury system. Killed by petty politicians

Ballot Reform—A measure providing for the elimination of party designations in county and municipal elections.

Smaller City Councils—A measure designed to "reform" city councils by limiting the number of councilmen in any city to ten, to be elected at large.

Direct Nomination of State Senators—A bill providing that state senators shall be nominated by direct primary.

State Civil Service—A bill providing that state employes shall be governed by civil service, and not be forced to look to the politicians for their jobs

Short Ballot—A bill providing that mayors shall appoint city auditors, treasurers and solicitors. Would shorten ballots in municipal elections.

Edwards Tax Bill—A measure designed to make the one per cent. tax limit law more workable. Provided for the appointment of a deputy state tax commissioner in each county and abolished boards of review, assessors, etc. Killed in conference.

The following quotations show the opening, high, low and closing markets in the order named of the various products.

THE PROSPECT SCHOOLS GRADUATE A CLASS

Nine Young People Are Given Their Diplomas.

THE COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM PLEASING

Each Graduate Contributes an Oration Which Is Enjoyed by a Large Audience—The Exercises Are Held in the Opera-House — Special Music for the Occasion.

Prospect, O., June 2.—[Special.]—Another very successful commencement of the Prospect public schools was held at the opera-house, Thursday evening, when a class of eight young ladies and one young gentleman turned from the trials and pleasures of school days into the world, with its broad field of usefulness and activity. Members of the class were Misses Louise Wottring, Helen Horn, Ruby Kaub, Ruth Hecker, Grace Main, Anna Farnum, May Tallman, Adah Isler and Mr. Dale Toms.

The Stage Beautiful.

The stage presented a pleasing appearance, with a bank of ferns in the rear, while a semi-circle of hanging baskets filled with vines and foliage were suspended above. Across the front of the stage, the class motto, "To Be Rather Than To Seem," in white and gold, was suspended.

The program was opened with a selection by the orchestra, "Our Directors."

Rev. A. R. Woodworth, of the Baptist church, stepped to the front and in an impressive manner invoked the divine blessing.

Beauty a Factor.

Miss Ruth Isola Hecker was the first member of the class to deliver her oration. Her subject was "Beauty a Factor in Life." She handled it in a pleasing manner.

"The life that would be complete and sane, as well as strong, must be ornamented, softened and enriched by the beautiful. Every one is desirous of living a beautiful life. We must have high ideals. Few live up to them, no one ever surpasses them. The cultivation of the sense of the beautiful was handed down to us from the Greeks. If we are not able to appreciate beauty in its simplest forms, we are away from God, for beauty is a quality of divinity. To live much with the beautiful is to live close to the divine."

The speaker urged her hearers to cultivate a spirit of kindness and unselfishness, for it is the indwelling spirit, the ideal of the soul, that inspires and lifts us to the beautiful.

The Real American.

After a selection "On the Sea," rendered by the O. W. U. quartet, Miss Adah Issler, followed with her oration, "The Real American." It was well delivered. She spoke of the name, fame and grandeur of American.

"But America's fame is no greater than that of her citizen," she said. "He is a type of the true and great. The real American has many predominating characteristics. He is a model of industry, thrift and energy, a genuine home-builder, and home-maker, a true type of statesmanship and an exponent of liberty and courage. Therefore the highest aim of a real American in life is to give where others have robbed, to heal where others have wounded, to restore what others have laid waste."

An Entreaty.

Miss Anna Farnum then appeared on the program with her entreaty, "Polish Thy Gem," which showed careful thought.

"Gold is gold in whatever shape and condition it exists, but only as it is purified does it reflect its real value. Pearls are found in shells, diamonds in stones but to bring out their beauty and value, they must be chiseled out and given a vigorous polishing. So there are gems in each individual of great value—our talents. To bring out their real worth, they must be vigorously cultured and carefully trained." The speaker reviewed the progress in the different industries and professions and said:

"We have today, men and women who are doing things and are a blessing to mankind. Let us search diligently for our special gem or talent and take great care in its chiseling and polishing, for the special calling to which our life is fitted."

A Rolling Stone.

A selection by the O. W. U. quartet was followed by Miss May Tallman with her oration, "A Rolling Stone Gathers No Moss." "A life without a purpose is like a ship at sea without a destination. The course of each will be uncertain, but a sad end is sure. In order to achieve success we must choose the right, have a singleness of aim, also a true unity of purpose and manifest an interest for our work by our own spirit. Carelessness is the mother of ill luck and causes a loss of the sense of reason, power of thought and a loss of the great and ennobling past of life. Our purpose and aim in life should be to aid our fellowmen," said the speaker.

Modern Science.

Dale A. Toms then followed, with a carefully prepared oration on the subject "Modern Science." "As one branch of education, science, is becoming more important each year from the fact that the more we learn about it, the more there is to be learned. There are many things that come under the head of science, but the most important are steam and electricity. The invention of the first steam engine and its development in recent years is an example. The most powerful compound steam engine ever constructed is in use on the Southern Pacific railroad. The second great factor of modern science is electricity. Many men have tried to find out what it is, but so far have not reached any satisfactory conclusions. Stimulated by the splendid achievements that confront us on every side, the inventive genius is more active today than ever, and who can say that the scientific discoveries and inventions of the wonder working nineteenth century may not be obscured by the discoveries of the twentieth?" the speaker said.

The Use of Time.

A selection by the Prospect orchestra preceded an oration by Miss Grace Main on the subject, "Conservation of Time." She said:

"God gives to each a short life in which to prepare for eternity. It's very brevity demands that every movement should be employed in the best possible way. The youth especially should form the habit of using his spare time in the right way." The speaker drew several pictures from history of men who arose to fame and fortune by the right use of leisure hours and urged classmates and friends to use their time correctly and make their lives a success, ever striving onward and upward until they hear the welcome, 'Well done, good and fatihful servant.'"

Mark Twain.

Miss Louise Edna Wottring followed with her oration, "Mark Twain," which she delivered with ease. She said in part:

"During the last twenty years a great change has taken place in the attitude of the world toward Mark Twain. When his funny stories began to appear he was regarded a mere humorist. It is impossible to predict what place Mark Twain will hold in letters a century hence, yet the present indications are he will outlive Holmes, for he proved himself to be more than a humorist and his writings show genuine literary qualities. Mark Twain was thoroughly American, loved and believed in his own country, his stern make up was shown in the way he met his reverse in fortunes. The world will miss Mark Twain. The king of a realm as wide as the world is gone and there is none to take his place."

The Motto Chosen.

The O. W. U. quartet then rendered a selection "College Days."

Miss Ruby Lorena Kaub then stepped to the front and delivered her oration, "Our Motto," which showed careful thought. She said in part:

That quality of mind which means absolute honesty in all actions and speech is called sincerety. The very foundation of all sincerety lies within ourselves." The speaker entreated her hearers to be sincere in all actions, in relation to the home, the school, the state and to the church. "Sincerity is the basis of every virtue, is the backbone of character. Let us then be what we are, and speak what we think and in all things keep ourselves loyal to truth—'To Be Rather than To Seem,'" she said.

Pioneer Heroism.

Miss Helen Susannah Horn followed with her oration, "Pioneer Heroism," which she delivered in a pleasing manner.

"When we build let us think that we build forever. Let it not be for the present delight or use, but such as our descendants will thank us for." She referred to the trials and discouragements of the pioneer of the eighteenth century and said, "But was not his purpose and aim to lay the foundations for a better government? We are indebted to the pioneer in every phase of life. Self-sacrifice is the real essence of heroism. The pioneer sacrificed his own enjoyments and opportunities for the good of humanity. We may not each become a pioneer of world-wide movement, but the qualities of the pioneer, developed in our lives will help us to be of more use to humanity."

Diplomas Presented.

After a selection by the quartet, "Just a Song at Twilight," J. B. Barker, superintendent of the public schools, in a pleasing manner addressed the class and presented the diplomas.

Rev. W. E. Huckeriede, of the Reformed church, pronounced the benediction and thus the happy commencement of the class of 1911 was brought to a close.

EIGHT DEAD IN A TRAIN WRECK

Many Injured in Disaster in Nebraska.

NUMBER OF PERSONS ARE BADLY SCALDED

Trains Are Ditched and Engineers Killed.

Wreck Occurs on the Burlington Road, Passenger Train, No. 9, Running at Speed of Fifty Miles an Hour, Crashing into Train, No. 12, Both Trains Being Thrown from Tracks—The Details.

Omaha, Neb., May 29.—At least eight persons are known to be dead as a result of a head-on collision, early today, between Burlington passenger trains, No. 9 and No. 12, two miles west of Indianola. The enginemen on both trains were killed. The list of dead will exceed early estimates.

The List of Dead.

A. A. Hissabeck, Holdredge, Nebraska

Robert Shepherd, traveling salesman, Holdredge, Nebraska.

Engineer John H. Hyder, of No. 12, and his fireman, W. J. Cameron, both of Lincoln.

Engineer W. T. Lahey and his fireman, A. J. Olson, both of Lincoln.

Express Messenger Frazer

Express Messenger Friar.

List of Injured.

B. Kelly, Omaha, ball player.

Robert M. Anderson, No. 71 U street, Washington, D. C.

O. H. Anderson, mail clerk, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Many Others Hurt.

Nearly two score of passengers and trainmen were injured.

Train, No. 12, an eastbound local, is said to have received orders to switch at Red Willow, a small town six miles west of Indianola. It is thought the orders were ignored.

Just as No. 12 began to slow down to switch near Indianola, the westbound flyer, No. 9, crashed head-on into it. Both engines were badly smashed.

Five cars on the flyer were hurled into the ditch and the baggage car and smoker on the local were derailed.

None of the passengers on No. 12 were seriously injured. The steam pipes in the flyer broke and several passengers were scalded.

The baseball teams of Denver and Omaha, of the Western league, were on board the westbound train.

President Gill, Pitcher Kinsella and Second Baseman Lloyd, of the Denver club, and Bert Kelly, of the Omaha team, were slightly injured. Both teams were occupying a tourist car which turned over. Gill had a bone in his foot broken.

TALE OF COWARDICE AND BRAVERY TOLD

Captain Called Ungallant and Chief Engineer a Hero.

Panama, May 29.—Tales of both bravery and cowardice were told here, today, by the seventy-three survivors of the National steamer, Toboga, which struck on a rock near Guanico Point, Tuesday night, and sank, who arrived here on the steamer, David.

The heroes of the Toboga were Chief Engineer Perivanches and a Cuban sailor, neither of whom could swim. They refused to take to the lifeboats before the passengers. They went down with the vessel.

The survivors charge Captain Campbell of the Toboga with acting in an ungallant manner, and of seeking his own safety ahead of that of the others.

M. Ponsignon, brother of the French charge d'affaires, was picked up by the David after having been afloat for twelve hours.

The list of dead in the accident is placed at fourteen passengers and nine of the crew.

POSTOFFCE NOW SELF-SUPPORTING

Hitchcock Returns $3,000,000 Appropriation to Treasury.

Washington, May 29.—The postoffice department for the first time in nearly 30 years is self-supporting. Postmaster General Hitchcock announced that the department is now able to meet its entire expenses without aid from the federal treasury, and has accordingly returned to the secretary of the treasury $3,000,000 which was set aside from the public funds to defray the expenses of the postal service in the current fiscal year. Not only is the service now self-sustaining, but there is at present, according to the postmaster general's announcement, a postal surplus of more than $1,000,000.

The postmaster general contends that the big deficit was wiped out, not by curtailing postal facilities, as some of his critics have contended, but by introducing business methods in the department and extending the service along profitable lines.

Struck by Lightning.

A family horse, belonging to Mrs. E. Morrow, near Caledonia, was struck by lightning during the storm Sunday afternoon. A mule belonging to George B. Christian, of this city, on the Garberson farm near Caledonia was also struck and killed.

PEOPLE PERISH IN PARK FIRE

Scores of Animals Burned in San Francisco.

CHUTES AMUSEMENT PARK IS DESTROYED

The Loss Is Estimated at About $250,000.

The Charred Bodies of Three Persons Are Recovered, but It Is Impossible To Determine the Sex—Number of People Are Injured and Several May Die—Cause of Fire Is Yet Unknown.

San Francisco, May 29.—Several lives were lost in a fire which started in the Chutes amusement park at 1 a. m., causing a loss of upwards of $250,000. During the blaze, firemen dynamited surrounding buildings to prevent the flames from spreading the havoc. Scores of animals in the Chutes menageries, were burned to death.

Those Among Missing.

Unknown motorman

Unknown chauffeur

List of Injured.

Belle Alviso.

Mrs. Fred Sanguinetti.

Mrs. Frank Richey.

Joseph J. Feist.

William Williams.

Fire Spreads Rapidly.

Nearly all of these sustained serious injuries as the result of being forced to jump through the flames from windows in lodging houses near the chutes.

The fire started in the Chutes restaurant at the Fillmore street entrance, and spread each way, burning a number of small theaters, restaurants and lodging houses.

Three Bodies Recovered.

San Francisco, May 29.—Three bodies were recovered, today, from the ruins of the Chutes Amusement park, which was destroyed by fire early today. It is believed that other dead will be found.

The recovered corpses are those of adults, but all are so badly charred that it is impossible to determine the sex.

ANOTHER ROAD IS PLANNED BY HILL

Project Leaks Out When Official Talks of Matter.

Los Angeles, Calif., May 29.—A road southwest from Denver, via Prescott, to the Pacific coast, is said to be planned by James J. Hill.

Such a line would make direct communication with the Burlington route, also a Hill line, and would give a fourth direct transcontinental road from Chicago, via Denver, to the Pacific.

The project leaked out when an official of the Hill system said that already part of the route had been surveyed and staked.

Camps have been established and, as far as possible, the preliminary work has been completed.

MRS. MAUD HOPPER SURRENDERS TO POLICE

Says She Is Amazed When She Hears of Charge.

A United Press wire from Columbus, Monday morning says:

Mrs. Maud Estella Hopper, wanted for the alleged murder of Carl Sanborn, who was found dead in a field, on the morning of May 17, walked into the sheriff's office, Monday morning at 8 o'clock, and gave herself into custody.

Mrs. Hopper said she was amazed at the charge of murder made against her. She said she had been visiting relatives in Dayton for the past week.

A Mandamus Suit.

Saturday, at Delaware, John Miller, first signer of a petition asking that the Carter road be made, filed a mandamus against W. C. Carter, the contractor, to compel him to complete the work. This is the road over which John H. Dwyer, of this city, had so much difficulty, their difficulties getting into the courts of Marion and Delaware counties over a dispute as to the ownership of some dynamite. According to the petition, Carter was to have the road completed by October 31, 1909. This, Miller claims, has not been done to the damage of the petitioners. A temporary writ was granted, returnable June 24.

To remove grease spots from wall paper, sprinkle baking soda over blotting paper and place over the spot and press with a moderately warm iron for a few minutes. The blotting pape, will absorb the grease and the paper on the wall will be free from spots.

To make a good sweet potato pie, take a cup of mashed sweet potato, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, half a teaspoonful of salt, same of nutmeg and ginger, half a cup of sugar, a cup of milk and one well-beaten egg. Bake for half an hour in a slow oven.

A savory breakfast dish may be made as follows. One large cup of calves' liver and bacon minced, half of a sweet green pepper cut fine, all browned well in a pan liberally greased with butter and then four eggs stirred in until the eggs are set.

THE UNITED STATES ATLANTIC FLEET IS NOW IN THE HARBOR OF DANISH CAPITAL

The United States Atlantic fleet, under command of Rear Admiral Badger on the flagship, Louisiana, is now in Copenhagen for a week's visit. During the visit King Frederick will receive in audience Admiral Badger and the captains of the American war ships.

NAME IS SELECTED FOR LOCAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Will Be Known in Future as Trinity Baptist Church.

SPECIAL SERVICES ARE HELD SUNDAY

Rev. J. C. Rose Presides at the Meeting and Makes an Appeal to the Baptists To Unite as Soon as Possible—Rev. Joseph Bennett Delivers a Stirring Address.

In commemoration of the recognition of the Free Baptist church as a regular Baptist church by the council of ministers from Central Ohio in this city, Thursday, May 18, services were held at the Main-street Baptist church, Sunday.

At a joint meeting of the old First Baptist and the Free Baptist congregations in the morning, it was unanimously voted to adopt the report of a committee which proposed that the church be known as the Trinity Baptist church.

Rev. J. C. Rose, of Granville, presided. In extending the hand of fellowship, representing as secretary the State Baptist association, he made a stirring appeal to both congregations to unite as rapidly as possible. "Until you do unite you will both be known as the Trinity Baptist congregations," he said.

In making his brief address, Rev. Mr. Rose grasped the hand of Andrew Jackson Peters, the gray-haired senior deacon of the church. He declared the Baptist church to be greater numerically than the Methodist church, and that it now has a membership of nearly 6,000,000. He said the outlook for a vast increase in membership could not be better.

The Morning Sermon.

Rev. Joseph Bennett, of Newark, preached the morning sermon. His effort was a powerful one—at times brilliant, dramatic and eloquent. He was introduced by Rev. Rose, who remarked: "I guess you have all heard of Newark."

"The Marion ball players refer to Newark as Lynchburg," began the Newark minister in prefacing his sermon." But they won't lynch anybody down there again for a long time, I guess."

Taking his text from a part of the twenty-first verse of the twelfth chapter of St. John, reading, "Sir, we would see Jesus," Rev. Mr. Bennett held his hearers as though spellbound with his peculiarly eloquent and forceful style of pulpit oratory.

After picturesquely describing the wise men of the East and the wise men of the West, and the two different types and ideas they represented, he declared that man's nature is a transcript of the divine nature. Any man or woman who gets away from God's plan is morally insane, he contended.

Submitted a Brief.

"I am not a lawyer, but I am willing to submit a brief to any court that if you are out of harmony with the Infinite, you are not Godly and you are a victim of moral insanity," declared the speaker, in a drawl-like tone. Then he paid this tribute to the Jews:

"The world owes a greater debt to the Jews than to any nationality. They gave to us the apostles and they gave to us the scriptures."

In naming some of the great characters of ancient and modern times, Rev. Mr. Bennett gave their nationalities and what they had been and were to the world. In doing so, he sprung the name of Roosevelt, but stopped abruptly. "Well, I don't know what to call him," he said, after a pause. "Anyhow, Jesus had no nationality. He was a Son of God. He was a perfect man."

The speaker launched into a beautiful word-picture of the rich and the poor, the saint and the sinner, the educated and the illiterate. He described the varying emotions of these elements of society with a dramatic touch here and a brilliant dash there, until one imagined the appearance on the walls of the sanctuary the scenes he depicted.

Greek Development.

The Greeks of old sought for the development of the intellect and the physique," the speaker said. "No thought was given to the moral development of man. The world today wants to see a man with character. A man with moral character always wins out in the end against vice and crooked politicians.

"There was no benevolence in the world until Christ came into it. Not a charitable hospital nor an asylum—these were the offsprings of Jesus. But selfishness wears the crown today. It sways the scepter and crushes beneath its iron heel the helpless.

"In Jesus is found peace of mind, rest of heart and satisfaction of soul. And that is what we are all struggling for. We need the vision of Jesus. We do not want it; we need it. It's the satisfaction of want that sends men to prison. We do not always need what we want. We need the vision of Christ, first, because it is quieting."

Here the minister dramatically described the scene when Jesus had entered a ship to cross the Sea of Galilee with His disciples. A great storm arose and the waves nearly covered the little vessel. The disciples were frightened, but Jesus was asleep and the storm did not disturb Him. "Master, dost Thou not care that we perish?" they cried, awakening Him. When they spoke thus to Him, Jesus arose and merely said, "Peace, be still." And like magic the winds and the sea obeyed.

Vision of Jesus.

Rev. Mr. Bennett also spoke of the vision of Jesus as being comforting, inspiring, satisfying and transforming, illustrating each with a striking word-picture. In illustrating the satisfying vision, he told the story of a trip he made to Europe. He had been gone three months.

"I saw many beautiful things there, saw many beautiful women. They were women of many different nationalities, but they were only beautiful women to me. Why, you know when the big boat came into New York harbor I was straining my eyes to see a little bit of a woman I called 'Sis.' And when I saw her there was a flutter in my heart. She had my love. She was the one woman in the world to me. She had my heart. That little woman was the mother of my children—a dozen of them. Standing there, waiting for me, she was a most satisfying vision."

An Illustration.

The minister illustrated the "transforming vision" with Dickens' familiar novel story of "Martin Chuzzlewit," how Martin Chuzzlewit was transformed by the unselfish devotion of his body servant, Mark Tapley, whose irrepressible jollity showed itself most when his affairs were at the worst. In closing he said:

"Now will you forget the union of your churches, forget your beautiful city, and follow me to Jerusalem. There He is on the cross. It is stained with Jesus' blood, this cross on Calvary. Look up and you can see the crown of thorns and the nails in His hands. By the vision of His suffering, unselfish love for humanity you can be transformed. Will you? Will you be saved?"

Sunday evening, Rev. Mr. Rose spoke on "The Church and Its Mission."

Bankruptcy Cases.

A mortgage claim of $6,400 held by the Marion County bank was waived as a preference claim at a meeting held before Referee-in-Bankruptcy Hoke W. Donithen, late Saturday afternoon, in the matter of Dr. Francis M. Baldwin, bankrupt, and the liens were ordered marshaled and the real estate sold. Saturday, in the federal court in Toledo, Dr. Baldwin and his wife, Millie J. Baldwin, were discharged as bankrupts.

MAJOR M'MURRAY HOME FROM TEXAS

Finds the Army Maneuvers Are Not a Joke.

Major J. W. McMurray, of the Fourth Ohio, returned Saturday night from Texas where he has been with a special detail of eleven men from Ohio, attending the war maneuvers. Dr. McMurray was assigned with the Twenty-Second infantry, spending part of the time at San Antonio and eight days in field maneuvers about thirty miles distant from San Antonio. About 12,000 men are now in camp.

Major McMurray states that many army and cavalry men considered the maneuvers a joke, but that he found it any thing but that. He believes that much good will result from the maneuvers, especially in a sanitary way. All of the men in camp are compelled to be vaccinated against typhoid fever. That vaccination is a powerful weapon in fighting the disease is indicated by the fact that of all the men who have been in the camp, there has been but one case of typhoid fever, this being suffered by a teamster who is not an army man.

J. H. RAWLINS HOME IS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Result of Thunder Showers Which Passes Over City.

The home of J. W. Rawlins on Scofield Heights was struck by lightning during the hard thunder shower which struck Marion, late Sunday afternoon. The big chimney was knocked to pieces. The bolt followed the water spouting and descended into the cistern. No other damage was done to the house.

Several trees throughout the city and county were struck by thunderbolts. In this city many telephones were burned out, and a street car on east Center street was put out of commission by the fuse being burned out.

Only a little over a quarter of an inch of the welcome rain fell here. Near Caledonia the downpour continued for several hours.

FRIENDS ARE GIVEN PLEASANT SURPRISE

Miss Blanch Couch and Mr. Earl Hardin Married.

Mr. Earl Raymond Hardin, who works as a blacksmith at the Slack shop at Lewis Center, and Miss Blanch Couch, of La Rue, who has been employed at Monnett Hall for the past year, were married on Sunday by Rev. J. A. Sutton at Marion. The news of the marriage was kept from friends. The groom is a son of Mr. W. H. H. Hardin, of this city. The young people will make their home at Lewis Center.—Delaware Gazette.

To clean silk and woolen clothes of grease spots, they may be gently rubbed with a cake of magnesia, laid away for several days, and then shaken out. It will not hurt to press the magnesia in with a hot iron, first covering the fabric with brown paper.

When it is desired to carry a candle into a drafty cellar or attic where there is danger of it blowing out or setting the clothes on fire, a short candle should be placed in a tumbler, being fastened there by its own wax. It will then burn steadily and safely.

A MARION WOMAN DIES IN CAPITAL CITY

Mrs. Louis E. Schoenberger Passes Away Saturday.

Mrs. Louis E. Schoenberger, of No. 412 Silver street, wife of the senior partner of Schoenberger & Lennon's furniture company, died at Mt. Carmel hospital in Columbus, Saturday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. Her death was the result of an operation performed for abdominal trouble, a week ago Monday. She had been ill for the past eight years.

Mrs. Schoenberger was aged thirty-seven years and eleven months. Her maiden name was Ella Kimmell. With her husband she came to Marion from Upper Sandusky about twelve years ago. She was a member of Canby Temple No. 152, Pythian Sisters, and a kind and loving wife and mother.

Aside from the husband, the deceased leaves two children, Esther, aged sixteen, and Russell, aged twelve; a father and several brothers and sisters residing in Wyandot county.

The funeral was held from the late home, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, a minister from Dayton officiating. Burial was made in the Marion cemetery.

ALBERT F. PHLBRICK DIES SUNDAY MORNING

Death Is the Result of an Illness of About a Month.

Albert Ferris Philbrick, aged fifty-two years, three months and twenty-seven days, died of chronic nephritis at his home, No. 323 Willow street, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Philbrick came to this city several years ago from Upper Sandusky, and made a large circle of friends during the time he lived here. He was a bookkeeper by occupation and was employed by the Marion Steam Shovel company. A widow and one son, Frank Philbrick, survive.

The deceased was a native of Fairfield county.

The funeral services were held at the late residence, Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, Rev. J. W. Schillinger officiating.

CHURCH DIVIDES ON PROHIBITION

Methodists Expel the Governor of Texas.

THEY FIRST ASK HIS RESIGNATION

Colquitt Refuses and Is Then Expelled.

Lone Star State Executive Declares That No Religious Organization Has Right To Dictate Political Beliefs of Its Members—Governor Is Booked To Make Speeches Against Anti-Prohibition.

Galveston, Tex., May 29.—Having lined up with the anti-prohibition interests of the state in their fight against statewide prohibition, and having accepted invitations to make speeches in their campaign, Governor Colquitt was asked to resign from the Methodist church. He declined to quit the church and there was nothing else to do but expel him and he refuses to be expelled and insists on being a Methodist and worshiping in the Methodist faith, regardless of whether the church officials cancel his membership or not.

He has made public his declaration and declares that prohibition is a political proposition and not a matter of religion, and that the Methodist church nor any church has any power to dictate to its members what they shall vote for and support prohibition or anti-prohibition.

The controversy threatens to divide the Methodists in Texas, for the campaign for statewide prohibition is waging hot and the election is to be held in July. The issue in the gubernatorial campaign was submitted which means the submission of the question of statewide prohibition to the people of Texas. The submission carried, hence the election in which but Governor Colquitt was elected on an anti-prohibition platform and has always been proclaimed the friend of the liquor interests. He says his forefathers in Germany labored to establish the Methodist church and they had much to do with preparing its rules and regulations, but that did not put prohibition into the confession of faith.

INVESTIGATING NEW SAUSAGE

New Species of Food Fraud Found in Toledo.

Columbus, O., May 29.—Here is a new species of food fraud against which the dairy and food department has taken up the cudgels of war. The interesting discovery of how the sausage is made from a comparatively small quantity of meat has been made at Toledo. To the meat used for sausage has been added starch. To the starch has been added a life-size quantity of water, which was absorbed by the starch. The result was that 25 to 40 per cent was added to the weight. Half a dozen affidavits were sent to Toledo by the department. The business has proved quite profitable in Toledo.

Tank Explodes; One Killed.

Columbus, O., May 29.—Caught rats in a trap when a 50-gallon tank of ammonia exploded in their midst, three employes at work on the tank in the ice plant at the rear of Fulton Market were overcome by fumes, and one of them, Edward Hopkins, 43, whose egress was cut off by a locked door, died in agony. St. Francis hospital just as he was being removed from the police ambulance. The other men, Harry Lance and John Thomas, escaped through a door into the office before they were dangerously affected.

Two Killed in Auto Wreck.

Findlay, O., May 29.—Elbert Hasole, 20, and Henry Rice are dead while William Hakes is lying at the point of death in a Fostoria hospital as the result of the former's automobile turning turtle near Bradner, catching fire, burning Ebersole beyond recognition. Rice's chest crushed.

Drowns Learning to Swim.

Toledo, O., May 29.—Four boys drowning have been registered here in the past 18 hours. Fred Young, 18, is the latest victim. The lad was attempting to swim without aid of a board in Lake Shore when he was seized with a cramp and, with a scream, sank to his death.

Woman Dies In Runaway.

Fostoria, O., May 29.—A broken the harness caused the team of Charles Morgan of Rising Sun to run away at Prairie Depot, and Mrs. Morgan was thrown out and killed. Morgan, his two infant daughters and mother were uninjured.

DEATH VICTOR IN LONG RACE

One Killed, Several Injured at Indianapolis.

DAY IS REPLETE WITH ACCIDENTS

The Race Is Pronounced Great Success.

Harroun Captures First Place in 500-Mile Race, Covering Distance in Six Hours and Eight Seconds—A Crowd of 100,000 Grows Hysterical as Tires Burst, Autos Collide and Drivers Are Spilled.

Indianapolis, May 31.—Crowded in the grandstands or sweltering in the sun around the course, a crowd of 100,000 morbid sightseers saw collisions, sudden death, dementia, serious injury and panic at the international 500-mile automobile race at the motor speedway, where car drivers of international reputation struggled for an aggregate of $40,000 in prizes.

Notwithstanding the horrors of the day, the race is pronounced to have been a great success, and around the hotels and on the streets it is the theme of all conversation. Men and women, who came here without securing hotel accommodations, and who sat in the parks all night and ate at restaurants, seemed to regard the privations as more than compensated, and the speedway management declares this to be certain evidence that the event was a great success.

The first accident occurred as the thirtieth mile of the race was being turned by Arthur Greiner, in an Amplex No. 44, both rear tires exploding at the same instant. The car skidded 25 feet, both rear wheels were torn off and the car turned over, crushing S. P. Dickson, the mechanician, to death under the wreckage and throwing Greiner some distance on the brick pavement. He was taken to the hospital and was found to be seriously injured, though the doctors reported that there were no fractures. Greiner is a millionaire from Chicago and Dickson is the son of a Chicago newspaper man.

Four Cars Wrecked.

The most sensational accident of the day occurred in front of the grandstand when four cars were wrecked and Harry Knight and John Glover were injured. The Case No. 8, coming down the home stretch, carrying Jagersberger and his mechanician, L. Anderson, broke a steering knuckle and crashed into the cement wall. The car rebounded to the center of the track with crushed wheels and Anderson fell directly in the roadway. Starter Wagner made an effort to flag the racers that followed, but he could do little more than check their speed.

Harry Knight in his Westcott, who was the closest to No. 8, turned out toward the judge's stand to avoid striking the prostrate mechanician, and his car skidded sideways at great speed.

At the pits, near the south end, were Lytle's car and Eddie Hearn's Flat No. 18, which had stopped because of tire trouble. Knight's car crashed into them with such terrific force that both 18 and 35 were dragged along to the roadway opposite the gate.

The impact caused No. 7 to turn over, throwing Knight and his mechanician, Glover, some distance. In the meantime Wagner was risking the center of the track checking the flyers. However, when it was seen that all the wrecked cars were free of the course, he waved the others ahead and the drivers were once more tearing around like mad, trying to make up for the time lost.

Seek Places of Safety.

The accidents occurred within a few feet of a crowd of people, who were panic-stricken at the danger and rushed for places of safety. Many of the people were so filled with terror that they cried from excitement and several hundred left the grounds.

The accident to the Amplex that resulted in the instant death of S. P. Dickson, mechanician, wrought up the crowd, and when Lozier car No. 34, driven by Teddy Tetzlaff, was seen to veer in front of another car, the spectators gasped. There was a crash, and the Lozier was overturned. Tetzlaff's mechanician, David Lewis, suffered a broken leg, but Tetzlaff was only bruised. The car that crashed in from behind, Pope Hartford No. 5, was withdrawn with the Lozier. The Pope occupants were not hurt.

The crowd again was brought to its feet by the thrilling escape from injury or death of Howard Fry, driving a Mercer, as a substitute for Bigelow. Fry's car skidded and plunged toward the repair pits, across from the grandstand. He turned it back to the middle of the track, but the car was too wild for him to handle and swerved toward the pits again. Fry then locked his brake and the car swung fully around before it stopped. Amid a storm of cheers from the crowd Fry resumed the race.

Evans Sustains Broken Ankle.

Another accident that added one to the list of injured occurred on the back stretch. Boi, Evans, a relief driver, in charge of Jackson No. 26, was sprinting along in the stretch when he attempted to turn out for another car. His racer skidded and when the wheels slipped from the edge of the track Evans was thrown out and his ankle was broken. With the aid of his mechanician he climbed back into the car, which had come to a standstill, and drove back to the pits on the home stretch, from where he was sent to the hospital. It was said at the hospital that the strain on Evans' nerves, coupled with the accident, had crazed him, and that he was suffering more from nervous collapse than from his broken ankle.

Wild Bob Burman made a sensational drive in which his long experience stood him in need, while going his eighty-fifth lap. When directly in front of the judges' stand Burman burst a rear tire with a deafening sound that brought the spectators to their feet. The car swerved slightly, but Burman steadied it and held it to the course. It was too late to stop and Burman continued on around the course on a flat wheel after his tire had become torn loose and jumped the stone wall at the south curve.

Victor Almost Mobbed.

Indianapolis, May 31.—The international automobile race was won by Ray Harroun in a Marmon 32. When the starter, Joe Wagner, waved the flag over Harroun as he passed under the wire, thus declaring him victor, the crowd went wild, rushed out on the track, took the driver from the car and carried him about the course on their shoulders.

Ralph Mulford, in a Lozier No. 33, was a close second, and David Bruce-Brown, in a Flat, was third. Wishart in a Mercedes was fourth, De Palma in a Simplex fifth, Charles Merz in a National sixth, W. M. Turner in an Amplex No. 12 seventh, Harry Cobe in a Jackson No. 25 eighth, Fred Betcher in a Knox No. 15 ninth, Hughie Hughes in a Mercer No. 26 tenth, Lee Frazer in a Firestone No. 30 eleventh and Gil Anderson in a Stutz No. 10 twelfth.

The time for the 500 miles was 6:41:08, an average of close to 75 miles for the entire race, as figured by the official scorers.

REPORT MADE BY COMMITTEE

Senatorial Probers Appear To Be Disgusted.

THEY WILL TAKE NO MORE TESTIMONY

Declare Their Work Hampered Too Much.

In Report the So-Called Senate "Whitewash" Committee Declares It Believes the Story of $100,000 Jackpot and Tales of Bribery Are Absolutely False and Circulated To Defeat Certain Legislation.

Columbus, O., May 31.—The so-called senate "whitewash" committee made the following report to the senate today:

"The select committee appointed under senate resolution, No. 35, begs leave to submit the following report:

"This committee was appointed May 9, 1911, and May 11, proceeded to organize by the selection of Senator Todd, of Franklin, as chairman, and Senator Doster, of Highland, as secretary. Various subcommittees were appointed and the committee proceeded with all due diligence to gather such information as was available and necessary prior to calling witnesses to testify before it.

"Immediately following the appointment of the committee there developed what appeared to be an organized effort on the part of certain newspapers and other individuals to disrupt the committee by inducing members thereof to resign and also to discredit in advance any work that it might attempt. It was currently reported in the press that the committee was appointed for the purpose of granting immunity to the members of the general assembly who would be called to testify before it and the name 'whitewash' committee was applied to it. These insinuations against the good faith of the committee were wholly false and malicious. There never was at any time any disposition on the part of any of the members of the committee to call before it any of the members of the general assembly for the purpose of granting immunity or for any other purpose. No members of the general assembly were at any time subpoenaed to appear before the committee and none would have been granted a hearing had they appeared voluntarily.

Refuse To Testify.

"Subpoenas were issued for various newspaper men and others who were supposed to have information relevant to the matters of inquiry committed to the committee to appear before the committee May 23 and 24. Pursuant to the command of said summons, the following named persons appeared before said committee on said dates, to wit: C. C. Lyon, Alfred C. Crouse, Ermond E. Cook, Nagley D. Cochran and Charles J. Pretzman. Each of said persons, when asked to be sworn and to give testimony before the committee, refused either to be sworn as witnesses or to answer any questions that might be asked by the committee or any member thereof relative to the matters of inquiry committed to the committee in said senate resolution, No. 35. Other witnesses under subpoena also appeared before the committee, but were not asked to be sworn. The committee, finding itself unable to proceed because of the defiant attitude of the witnesses subpoenaed before it, filed affidavits before a justice of the peace of Montgomery township, Franklin county, Ohio, under favor of section No. 12,845, of the general code. Warrants were issued upon said affidavits upon said Edmond E. Cook, Negley D. Cochran and Charles J. Pretzman. Three days' time was consumed in said justice court in an endeavor to bring the case to a hearing, the defendants using every possible means to secure delay.

No More Testimony.

"When the court would not tolerate further delay and announced itself ready to begin the hearing of said cases, said defendants and each of them waived a preliminary examination before said magistrate and were bound over to the common pleas court of Franklin county, under bond of $500 each. So much time was consumed in these proceedings that the committee felt that it would not have sufficient time before the date fixed for the final adjournment of the general assembly to make a complete and thorough investigation of the matters and things committed to it by said senate resolution, No. 35, and it was therefore decided by the committee to make no further effort to obtain testimony.

"While no testimony has been taken your committee believes from the investigations it has made that the story of the $100,000 jackpot raised for the purpose of securing certain legislation, was absolutely false and was given circulation by persons interested in defeating legislation and for the purpose of defeating legislation and particularly of preventing the passage of any utilities bill.

Would Punish Men.

"Your committee further believes from the information it was able to obtain that the published reports of bribery and misconduct on the part of members of the general assembly, were grossly exaggerated if not entirely false and that a full public investigation of such published reports and charges would have had the result of disabusing the public mind of these suspicions and doubts engendered by the publication of these reports.

"Your committee believes that it is of the first importance that the public should be advised of the false and malicious character of these reports and that those responsible for their promulgation and circulation should be exposed and the purposes actuating them made known.

"Your committee, therefore, recommends that the witnesses above named who refused to be sworn and to testify, be cited before the bar of the senate in contempt of its authority and fittingly punished, and that if the men who refused to be sworn and to testify be cited before the bar of the senate and in contempt of its authority and fittingly punished and that if the general assembly should not adjourn sine die the 31st of May, either the present committee be continued or a new one appointed to make a complete and thorough investigation of all the charges, insinuations and reports reflecting upon the authority of members of the senate."

Grand Jury Resumes.

Columbus, O., May 31.—The Franklin county bribe-probing grand jury resumed its investigation this morning. Most of the day was occupied with transcript cases from police and justice courts, but Prosecutor Turner is authority for the statement that the body will delve further into the alleged state-house graft.

"We may or may not go into the cases against Attorney Charles J. Pretzman and E. E. Cook, editor of the Columbus Citizen, for refusal to testify before the senate probe committee," Turner said. "It will depend upon the nature of the transcripts from justice courts, which have not yet arrived. There are certain laws governing this refusal to testify which will have to be looked into first."

"The grand jury will, however, continue to search for graft in the senate and house of representatives and make a thorough investigation and report before adjourning again."

The grand jury is in charge of Assistant Prosecutor Wilber King, Turner being tied up in the Nye trial. No partial report is expected this week.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS PLANNING LEAGUE

Will Organize National League for Compulsory Education.

Chicago, May 31.—The first important conference of compulsory education officials ever held in this country will meet in Chicago, Friday. More than 150 delegates will gather here to organize the National League of Compulsory Education Officials. The truancy officers were brought together by William L. Bodine, superintendent of the work here, and President Pestalozzi, of Milwaukee.

SURGEON REMOVES DESIRE FOR STEALING

JEAN THURNHERR

San Francisco, May 29.—That the surgeon's scalpel has carved her propensities for stealing from the brain of Jean Thurnherr is the belief of Dr. Herbert N. Rowell, Chief of Police Volmer and others at Berkeley. The woman will appear before Robert Edgar, a justice of the peace, to answer to a charge of petty larceny. It is believed that the case will be dismissed because of the remarkable change wrought in the mind of the youthful offender. Jean Thurnherr was operated on at Mercer hospital, in Oakland, on April 12, following her arrest for the third time in Berkeley on charges of theft. A small part of her skull was removed under the direction of Dr. Rowell. The woman is firmly convinced that she is permanently cured of her desire to steal.

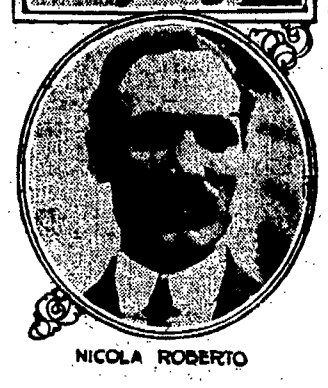
ITALIAN EMBRACES HINDOO RELIGION

JOSEPH G. THORP



NICOLA ROBERTO

THE NATIONAL GUARD VIEWED

Inducements Must Be Offered to Men.

EVERY MILITIAMAN HIT FINANCIALLY

Colonel Schulze Speaks from Experience.

The Colonel Tells Why It Is So Hard To Keep Membership Up to a Minimum—He Declares Prospective Guardsmen Are Scared Out When Told of Weekly Drills and the Penalty for Absence.

Washington, May 31.—An intimate and close view of the national guard is presented in a letter written to Major John Q. Tilson, representative at large from Connecticut, by Colonel Edward Schulze, inspector general, C. N. G. Colonel Schulze predicts that it will be necessary for the federal government to provide some relief if the national guard is to be preserved.

"Every national guard officer," says Colonel Schulze, "no matter from what state, will tell you that since the passage and enforcement of the Dick bill, and since actual work is expected of the militia, the membership has decreased and a majority of company commanders have hard work to keep their organizations up to a minimum. This may sound strange, but it is nothing more than a fact. Since the annual outings of the old guards have gone into history, and the real working camps have been established, the men are not there.

"When men are asked to come in they want to know what inducement there is for them to join. Then you might talk patriotism, military education, or anything you may think of, but the last thing of all to induce them is patriotism, which, strange as it may seem, is possessed by very few men in time of peace. Patriotism does not seem to come to most men until the day when war is declared, when they all get full of it to the neck, but too late.

Are Out of Pocket.

"As matters stand today, in the militia there is not a man, from the highest officer to the private, who is not out of pocket financially by the mere reason of his membership in the militia.

"Now, as to army officers needed for instructors of the militia, I want to say that they are needed very much, but let us have the militia first. No community would ever think of hiring a lot of school teachers until they had the children to be taught.

"I know not why, but there appears to be, just the same, a number of regular army officers retired who should be in the service. We have one of them at the present time on duty in Connecticut National Guard, who, it appears, was retired for physical disability. He can eat more and drink more and can get around, on horseback or foot, as well as any officer there is in the national guard, which was proved by him at our encampment last summer; and I want to add here that we have a lot of good, lively officers in the national guard.

Few Weak Points.

"But may this be as it will, the American people prefer a militia to a large standing army, and one or the other we must have; and as it must be the militia we should do all we can to have well-trained and reliable militia; and in order to get the men voluntarily we must give them some inducement to come in. To give them a small compensation for the time and work required of them would seem to be not only fair, but consistent.

"We are obliged to acquaint each man with the duties required of him before he enlists; also the laws and regulations which will govern his acts. Just imagine the effect on a prospective when the captain informs him that he must attend at least one drill every week, for which he will get no other compensation than the benefit he may gain in military training; but if he misses a drill—sickness excepted—he must pay a fine of one dollar. The young men of today will hardly accept this as an inducement, and yet such are the conditions.

"The state of Connecticut has done a whole lot more for her soldiers than many other states, and is doing it today; and now that the federal government has taken hold and is expecting much more of the officers and men than they have ever before, which is no more than right and should have been done years ago, the general government must also expect to stand a good share of the necessary expenses."

MURDERS BAFFLE CHICAGO POLICE

Two Men Are Killed, and Mystery Surrounds Death.

Chicago, May 31.—Two baffling murder mysteries confront the police today.

Charles Reily, fifty-six, a union printer, left his home last night to go to a lodge. Today his body, with the skull crushed and battered, was found in the rear of his home. The body had not been robbed.

A well-dressed man about thirty-five years of age, was found unconscious in a doorway in the heart of the loop district. He died in the county hospital and physicians declare he was murdered. Papers in his pockets indicate that his name was "Michaelson," but the identification is incomplete.

Foulard gowns with trimmings of plain taffeta are very chic.

YOUNG GERMAN PRINCE SUFFERS A [illegible]

Berlin, May 31.—Prince Joachim, the youngest son of Emperor William, was seriously injured during sham battle exercises of the Second Guard brigade. The prince's foot is though to have been broken. The maneuvers were being conducted under the personal command of the emperor. Prince Joachim, who is twenty-one years old, recently was made an officer of the Guard brigade.

FREE WOOL IS CRY OF BRYAN

Nebraskan Reads Riot Act to Democrats.

COMMONER URGES THEM TO STAND PAT

Advance Copies of Editorial Handed Out.

Breach in Ranks of House Widens by Circulation of Bryan's Views. Underwood Takes Decided Stand Against Outside Interference—He Declares Outgivings Are Misleading and Points to Author's Vote.

Washington, May 31.—As the result of W. J. Bryan's entrance into the affairs of the majority in the house, the outlook for a break in the Democratic ranks is more serious now than at any other time since congress met in special session. The bill revising the wool schedule of the tariff law, which has been prepared by the committee on ways and means, is the cause of the trouble.

Mr. Bryan demands free raw wool and has written a scorching editorial article for the Commoner, condemning as protectionists the Democrats who fail to fall in with his ideas on tariff revision. The article will appear in the current issue, but advance copies were handed out here by Representative Francis Burton Harrison of New York, one of Mr. Bryan's free raw wool followers.

Underwood Stands Pat.

Representative Underwood, leader of the majority in the house, has openly taken a stand against Bryan in this matter, and in an interview clearly showed his resentment of the Bryan editorial comment. He characterizes the Bryan outgivings as "misleading" and asks how the wool revision bill proposed by the present ways and means committee can be a "protection measure" if it reduces the tariff on woolen manufactured goods as low as did the Wilson bill, in favor of which Mr. Bryan himself recorded his vote when he was a member of the house.

All indications now point to a close drawing of the lines between the supporters and opponents of Mr. Bryan in congress, and upon this contest will undoubtedly depend whether the Nebraskan will be able to force the adoption of his views in the house in the future or whether new leaders have arisen who are capable of holding the reins.

What Bryan Wrote.

Here are a few of the gems culled from the advance sheets of the Bryan editorial article handed out:

"The Democratic voters have a right to insist that the protectionist Democrats shall be as honest as the protectionist Republicans. The Republicans want protection on wool because they believe in the principle of protection—but let no Democratic advocate of a tax on wool masquerade behind the pretense that he is voting for a revenue tariff. Let him not add hypocrisy to the sin which he commits against his party.

"There is no reason why a few sheepraisers should be shown favoritism at the expense of all who wear woolen clothing.

"If the Democratic party is to be Aldrichized, let the change of policy be made with audacity at least. The man who does wrong boldly may mislead a few, but the man who does wrong by stealth, and then tries to conceal it by equivocation, confesses his consciousness of guilt and can not hope for a following.

"The Democratic voters know all needed revenue can be raised in less oppressive ways, and they know that the argument that the tariff on wool is proposed as a revenue tariff is merely a subterfuge employed because those who employ it are ashamed to say that they favor protection."

CAPTAIN VEGAS IS SHOT AT SUNRISE

Court-Martial Convicts Him of Killing an American.

San Diego, Calif., May 31.—According to a report received here, today, Captain Tony Vegas, commander of a detachment of troops under the general command of General Rhys Pryce, one of the leaders of the Lower California insurgents, was shot at sunrise. A court-martial convicted him of shooting and killing an American soldier.

It is reported that the affair has caused serious dissension in Pryce's command and that fighting is now in progress. Internal dissension threatens the insurgent control of Tia Juana.

CARRIES HIS WOODEN LEG DOWN LADDER

Fire at Lima Drives Fifteen to the Street.

Lima, O., May 31.—Fifteen in night clothing escaped on aerial ladders and fire-escapes, this morning, when flames of unknown origin did $30,000 damage to the Stamets block, part of which is the Interurban hotel. A. R. Starr carried his wooden leg down a ladder. Laughter at the efforts of Mrs. Mary Benson, landlady, to save pillows stopped when she drew $500 from them.

The coronation season promises to be one of brilliant colors.
